RED HORDES CRUSH WRANGLER ARMY

Anti-Bolshevik General Flees Before Soviet Onslaught

AIDED BY FRENCH SHIPS

Evacuation of Crimean Peninsula Now Under Way

PARIS — Completely crushed by the Bolshevik onslaught, Baron Wrangel's army already has begun evacuation of the Crimean peninsula, according to semi-official dispatches received here shortly before midnight. French warships and transports were said to be aiding the embarkation.

The reports stated that occupation of Sebastopol by the soviet forces was imminent. The dispatches said that the reds plied Wrangel's front in the Perekop sector on Thursday. A dispatch from Sebastopol, received at midnight, stated that arrangements had been made for members of Wrangel's government, the foreign military missions, and members of the French colony, to embark on the French armored cruiser Waldeck Rousseau (a vessel of 14,000 tons).

SEBASTOPOL ABANDONED — An earlier Constantinople dispatch stated that Wrangel had abandoned Sebastopol. His main headquarters at the southwestern tip of the peninsula. The French foreign office delays communication, stating the anti-Bolshevik leader was then preparing to remove the civilian population at once.

"Baron Wrangel's position is increasingly precarious," the foreign office stated. "The Bolsheviks have captured Izik and great quantities of war materials."

"Pellura and Balakovich have jointly launched an offensive against the Bolsheviks on a wide front in Ukraine. The latter already has occupied the entire Dnieper district."

BOLSHIEVKS ADVANCING — A wireless communication from Moscow, stated:

"Wrangel's fate is the same as that of Kolchak, Denikin and Yudenich. A proclamation from him transferring his powers to the Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovich, now inognito in Sebastopol, is imminent."

Bolsheviks are advancing on a front extending clear across the Crimea, burning stores, capturing booty and bagging the retreat. Our troops have occupied Yushun."

Later information received by the foreign office said that Wrangel was preparing to flee from the peninsula with as much of his army as he can find ships for.

Two French armored cruisers already are at Sebastopol to assist in the embarkation. The French hope to send other craft there from Constantinople.

Meantime the reds were said to be pouring into the peninsula rapidly from the break in the Perekop defense line on the isthmus which they outflanked by crossing the frozen Set of Azof to the rear of the Wrangelites.

Wrangel's troops were reported to be losing their grip on town after town, fighting desperately to prevent further flank movements with consequent large scale captures.

HIGHWAYS TO BE KEPT OPEN

Bureau of Good Roads Takes Steps for Snow's Removal

WASHINGTON—For two or three months each winter the northern state highways have been made impassable, or nearly so, by drifted snow, and the hundreds of millions of dollars invested in them bring no return to the taxpayers during the time the roads cannot be used.

With a view to remedying this condition, the Bureau of Public Roads of the Department of Agriculture has been making this summer a study of the situation with regard to snow removal in the states east of the Mississippi river, of the bureau has conferred with the highway commissioners in the states in this territory and reports that definite plans have been made in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Indiana and Illinois which will result in the main trunk lines being kept open all winter. In some other states, the state highway department is prepared to assist the counties in every way and is urging the necessity of the work, it is not empowered to initiate the work.

In some of the states snow fences will be placed for winter fifty feet from the highway, to stop the snow before it reaches the road. These fences, which are made of slats, are tipped backward until they form a decided angle and then are braced like billboards. In the spring the sections are unhooked from the stakes and stored by the State Highway Commissioner until winter. This type of fence has been used by many railroads in the past during the months of snow, and has proved very effective as a snow guard to the roadbed.

In other localities snowplows, either horse or motor drawn, will keep the state highways clear. One of the most efficient type of snowplow has a broad blade, which removes the snow, attached to the front of a motor truck. A second truck chained to the first pulls while the first pushes the blade.

DEFEAT OF WILSON POLICY BRINGS JUGO-SLAVIA FALL

U. S. Election Decided Fiume Question, Writer Says

GIVES ITALY GREAT VICTORY

Makes Rome Mistress of the Adriatic Sea, Claim

(By J. W. T. MASON)

NEW YORK—Italy has won an important victory over Jugo-Slavia by the settlement of the Fiume and Adriatic crisis. Italy now becomes the dominant influence in Fiume and secures possession of sufficient strategic points along the Dalmatian coast to make her mistress of the Adriatic.

The Jugo-Slavs held out against increasingly powerful pressure as long as the American presidential election was undecided. But the defeat of Wilson international policies left Jugo-Slavia no hope. Only the United States government has defended the Jugo-Slavs in the council of nations, but there was no hope that America would continue to take sides in any purely European dispute after the presidential poll.

ITALY'S PRESTIGE INCREASED — The Jugo-Slavs, therefore, saved what they could from the wreck, and made the best terms possible with Italy. These terms will greatly increase Italy's prestige in southern Europe. The Adriatic sea has been made an Italian stronghold, without danger from the enemy on the Dalmatian shore. Jugo-Slavia's ambitious attempt to secure the Adriatic's control with Italy, has been checked. The principal Dalmatian harbors to Italy and a rival Jugo-Slav port will be impossible for a long time to come.

Fiume is made free ostensibly, month economic control over the Bpt. In reality, Italy will have paramount. The Roman statesman have secured a strip of territory running thru the state of Fiume, Italy's next door neighbor. It will give Fiume preferential access to Italy's highly developed markets.

WILL ANNEX FIUME — Economic self interest will thus draw Fiume closer to Italy and by diverting much of her overseas trade to Fiume, Italy can strengthen the bond between her and the now free port. There is no reasonable doubt but that Fiume will eventually apply for annexation to Italy, if the Italian government makes the most of its opportunity. Once Fiume advances this request of her own free will, the other powers cannot oppose her desire. This is what the Italian statesmen are undoubtedly playing for. They have handled their side of the controversy with great skill and have outmaneuvered the Jugo-Slavs. Jugo-Slavia, however, has gained the great advantage of Italian friendship by agreeing to the present settlement. Had an embargo been allowed to develop on both sides of the Adriatic, the Jugo-Slavs would have seriously interrupted their own progress.

PART OF SERBIA — Jugo-Slavia is a new state. The very name was unknown before the war. It is in reality an annexation of a large territorial area by Serbia, with the Serbian king as ruler. Serbia is given access to the Adriatic as the dominant state of Jugo-Slavia. It is to Serbia's interest to remain at peace with her more powerful Adriatic neighbor, and to look to Italy for a helping hand.

Serbia who are really responsible for Jugo-Slavia's acceptance of the new pact, realize these facts. Harmony in southern Europe, therefore, seems to be assured.

STRIKE IN MEXICO SPREADING

General Walkout at Vera Cruz, However, is Checked

MEXICO CITY, Mex. — With a general sympathetic strike spreading along the Gulf district, the government Saturday night apparently had scotched the trouble at its source.

As reports continued to come in of clashes between strikers and strike-breakers in the state of Yucatan, announcement was made by the government that a settlement had been reached with the striking dock workers in Vera Cruz, whereby the men agreed to return at once. The government promised to operate the docks until the men could come to a permanent understanding with the shipping interests.

General strikes had been called in Merida, Yucatan and Tampico, the great oil center, in sympathy with the dock workers in Vera Cruz. This situation Saturday night presented the analogy of a sympathetic strike, with no object for its sympathy. It was believed in official circles, however, that the other strikes would be called off as soon as the strikers could be notified of the outcome of negotiations in Vera Cruz.

There still remained the possibility of a resumption of the fighting between Socialists and administration devotees in Yucatan, as well as the threat of a strike of farm hands in the state of Puebla. The latter have organized and asked for higher wages.

KITCHIN TO BE FLOOR LEADER IN HOUSE FOR DEMS

MILLION A MONTH IN JUNK SALES

Suma Realized From Scrap Shown By Shipping Board.

NEW YORK—The congressional committee investigating operations of the United States shipping board acquired Saturday's scrap hearing into sales of scrap materials from shipwrecks and alleged inefficiency in handling cargoes and repairs by representatives of the board.

Sales of surplus materials averaged about $1,000,000 a month, but since October 1, there have been no sales, owing to a controversy over contracts with scrap dealers, which began last April, according to Robert E. Kilne, formerly in charge of the salvage work of the board's Island shipwrecks. Kilne also declared that sales were held up by this controversy last spring during the period of high prices for scrap and then made after the market had slumped, netting a loss of about $4 a ton.

Kilne now is in charge of the Hog Island shipwrecks, and also testified that Congressman James A. Gallivan, of Boston, intervened in the contract controversy, charging that a New England dealer had been discriminated against, and that he would carry the matter onto the floor of congress, unless "his friend was given a fair hearing."

DEATH TAKES TWO OF FAMILY

Carl Leonard Killed at Houston, Tex., Relatives Learn.

Death last night again laid a heavy hand on a member of the family of A. D. Miller, 937 W. High-st. Miller received word at 1 o'clock Sunday morning that another son-in-law, Carl Leonard, a former Lima man, had been killed at Houston, Texas.

The body of another son-in-law, Herbert O. Conrad, killed Thursday at Muskogee, Oklahoma, in an automobile accident, will arrive here at 7:15 this morning for burial.

No information as to how Leonard met his death was received. Leonard's stepfather, Andrew Schuler, Piqua, received the sad news and called Miller. Schuler received only the news of the death.

Leonard leaves his wife and one small child. They are on the way to Lima with the body of Conrad and know nothing of the sad fate of their husband and father.

Leonard's body will be brought to Lima for burial, although no details are arranged. He was a boilermaker and was employed in the manufacture of tanks at Houston. He was widely known in Lima and has a number of relatives here.

TRAINMEN'S BAZAAR AND FAIR CLOSED LAST NIGHT

Brotherhood of railroad trainmen closed their week's fair and bazaar, Saturday evening in a blaze of glory.

Dancing was enjoyed until midnight and many favors were passed out by the trainmen. It was Eagles' night and there was a representative attendance of members.

Funds derived from the fair and bazaar will be used to replenish the treasury of the order.

NO TRACE OF BANDITS CLEVELAND — Police here had no trace of the two bandits who Saturday afternoon held up the superintendent and another employee of the Republic Brass Company and escaped with a payroll of $5,500. The men avoided a half dozen officers and escaped over back fences.

NEW U. S. SHIPPING BOARD NAMED

Four Democrats and Three Republicans Chosen.

MAY BE HELD UP IN SENATE

Rear Admiral Benson is Re-appointed Chairman.

WASHINGTON — Reappointment of Rear Admiral William S. Benson as chairman of the shipping board was announced Saturday at the White House. At the same time announcement was made of the appointment of six other members of the new board authorized by the merchant marine act.

The other six members are: Frederick I. Thompson, Alabama, Democratic, term of five years; Joseph N. Teal, Oregon, Democratic, term of four years; John A. Donald, New York, Democratic, term three years; Cuesier S. Rowell, California, Republican, term two years; Guy D. Goff, Wisconsin, Republican, term one year; Charles Sutter, Missouri, Republican, term of one year.

FULL TIME REQUIRED — The salaries fixed by law are $12,000 each commissioner. Members of the board must devote all of their time to the duties of their office and they must divest themselves from any interest which they may have in the shipping industry.

Admiral Benson and Mr. Donald are the Atlantic coast representatives; Mr. Thompson is the member from the Gulf coast; Mr. Goff, the member for the Great Lakes region and Mr. Sutter the member from the interior.

MAY BE HELD UP — Under the law not more than four members of the board can be of any one political party. Four democrats and three republicans have been appointed, but in some quarters Saturday doubt was expressed whether the republican senate would approve this political alignment in view of the fact that a republican administration will come into power on next March 4. It was regarded as possible that the senate might delay action on the bill until after March 4.

Since congress failed to make a specific appropriation for the salaries of members of the new board they are not expected to draw any pay until congress at its next session has made funds available.

STORM MAROONS HARDING PARTY

Kept in Cottage as Gale Sweeps Texas Village.

POINT ISABEL, Texas—Marooned Saturday by one of the worst storms that ever beat against the bleak promontory on which this little fishing village is located, President-elect Harding remained inside his cottage.

He called in a stenographer and spent the day answering mail and dictated his New Orleans speech, to be delivered next Thursday just before sailing for Panama.

Senator Harding woke Saturday morning with the stinging "norther" lashing the waters of Laguna Madre. White caped breakers beat up against the cliff on which the senator's cottage sits with unabated fury all day. Fishermen tied their small boats and watched the storm from the shelter of the crude frame fish houses. Tarpon fishing was impossible. Plans had been made by the senator to golf in Brownsville. His only exercise Saturday was a short walk from the cottage to the hotel and back. Some of the party went duck shooting.

His hunting remained indoors again Saturday. She has been getting a greatly needed rest here and appears much refreshed.

DAUGHTERY RETURNS — Harry M. Daugherty, Harding's personal political adviser, was called to Columbus by the death of his sister-in-law Saturday.

Senator Albert Fall, of New Mexico, was expected to arrive Sunday.

Altho political affairs were studiously avoided by Senator Harding here, it is possible that the Mexican situation in which Senator Fall is deeply interested, may be discussed in an informal and unofficial way.

Governor Hobby of Texas, is due Tuesday and probably will go with the party toward New Orleans.

Altho he is adverse to touching foreign soil on his forthcoming trip, Senator Harding has agreed to discuss the matter of visiting the city of Panama with a delegation at Columbus.

Senator David S. Atkins, of West Virginia, who has been here with Harding, left Saturday for home.

COUPLE KILLED WHEN TRAIN KILLS AUTOMOBILE

CLEVELAND — John Kracker, 54, retired farmer, and his place, Mattie Schaubert, 34, were instantly killed here late Saturday when their machine was struck by a swiftly moving passenger train.

The bodies were thrown 15 feet. Witnesses said that Kracker, who was driving, apparently did not see or hear the train.

56 NATIONS TAKE PART IN LEAGUE MEETING MONDAY

Session at Geneva to Represent Three-Fourths of World

GENEVA — When the league of nations closes in the middle of December, its initial session which starts here Monday, the league is practically certain to embrace 56 states, representing more than 1,300,000,000 people, or about three-fourths of the population of the world.

The league will begin its functioning Monday with 42 member states, comprising 29 which participated in the world war and 13 neutrals which accepted invitations to join the assembly. During the assembly's session, the applications of 14 states will be passed upon. These include Armenia, Estonia, Austria, Finland, Georgia, Iceland, Costa Rica and Bulgaria.

21 LEFT OUTSIDE — At present, the world has 77 independent states, counting the British dominions separately. Hence, with the league's membership raised to 56, there will be only 21 outside the league, including the United States, Germany, Russia, Albania, Arabia, Azerbaijan, Bhutan, Courland, Lithuania, Mesopotamia, Afghanistan, Morocco, Abyssinia, San Domingo, Ecuador, Nepal, Mexico, Turkey, Montenegro, and Hungary.

HUNGARY MAY BE ADMITTED — The secretary has been informed that Hungary will apply for membership as soon as her peace treaty is ratified. If this is done in time, she also may be admitted at this session.

Virtually all the delegates to the assembly have now arrived. The British representatives, headed by Lord Cecil, came by special train.

In an article which will be published Monday in the Revue de Geneve, Cecil admits the covenant probably will be revised.

Explanation was made by officials of the league that the meetings of the supreme council which have been held in various cities to date have been necessarily secret because of the delay in the initial assembly meeting.

In its final secret session Sunday the council will take up the territorial dispute between Poland and Lithuania, together with the creation of an economic section of the league. Both of these matters were unfinished at the last council meeting in Brussels.

LANGDON, N. H.—Solution of the disappearance four years ago of Mrs. Blanche Wright Whitney was sought again Saturday by county authorities in abandoned wells and waterholes on the farm here from which her husband, William B. Whitney, county road agent and former selectman, departed without notice October 30.

High Sheriff Albert L. Barton said that while there had been no further confirmation of the story of John Whitney, 16-year-old son of the missing man by a former marriage, that his stepmother was killed in a quarrel with Whitney and her body subsequently buried in a well, he felt the circumstances warranted exploration of the entire farm if necessary to determine whether the woman's body was there.

Having gone to the bottom of one well Friday with the finding only of bones believed to be those of an animal, the county authorities turned Saturday to another well packed with stone and debris in a manner corresponding with the description of the work of burial contained in the account of the son. It was thought it might be Monday or Tuesday before the bottom was reached.

The second wife of Whitney, whose body is being sought, was Miss Blanche Wright, of West Jefferson, Ohio, before her marriage, according to neighbors. She met Whitney in Montana, where they had acquired tracts of government land under development, it was said.

HUNT FOR WOMAN IS CONTINUED

Search for Body on New Hampshire Farm Kept Up.

LABOR GROUP TO LEAD ACTION

Council Expected to Take Up Matter This Week.

WOULD AMEND THE DRY LAW

Movement Backed by Federation of Labor.

WASHINGTON—The labor group in the new congress will fight for modification of the Volstead law to permit sale of light wines and beer. If the group follows policies of the American Federation of Labor, it was made clear Saturday at the federation headquarters.

"The federation is on record as favoring light wines and beer," said Vice-President Matthew Wolf.

Plans for the fight to amend the law, may be made next week by the executive council of the federation, which has been in session here since Thursday.

"The council may take up the liquor question," said Vice-President Frank Tobin, of Indianapolis.

The labor group in the new congress, includes 15 members who belong to the A. F. of L., according to President Samuel Gompers and others friendly to labor.

The executive council is expected to continue in session next week. Owing to illness of President Gompers, the council Saturday was unable. Wolf said, to take up any vital issues such as unemployment, wage cutting and a legislative program.

Gompers is expected to return to the council Monday when the members will go to work to frame the policy of the federation towards the campaign to establish non-union shops now held under away by big employers.

G. O. P. INSURGENTS READY FOR WAR

WASHINGTON — Insurgent Republican senators will put it up to President-elect Harding to decide whether there shall be peace or war in Republican ranks after Harding takes office, a leading "Irreconcilable" said here Saturday night.

Harding can assure himself of the cooperation of the irreconcilables and keep his party undivided in the senate, the speaker said. If he will refuse to heed the counsel of those whom the "Irreconcilables" call "reactionaries," he faces war with the insurgents, it was declared.

The insurgents if he chooses war, are preparing to fight. The program is already well-defined, it was outlined Saturday by the leader referred to.

WOULD JOIN DEMOCRATS — This senator scouted claims of the regular Republican leaders that they would be able to lead the party in the senate because of the big Republican plurality. The treaty irreconcilables number a dozen, but all of those would not be "insurgent" on domestic questions, such as taxation, however, the speaker said, but his faction, if forced to fight against reactionary measures, would not hesitate to combine with the Democrats. That would endanger Republican control, he predicted.

President Gives Advice to Housewives—Speakers Heard.

In answer to Frank L. Pringle, manager of the Lima Natural Gas Co., who explained the company's stand on the gas matter up between it and the city council, Mrs. W. B. Kirk spoke in opposition to the cost-plus plan at the annual fall meeting of the Lima Federation of Women's Clubs held at the Y. W. C. A. Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Lush M. Butler, president of the Federation, urged all housewives to conserve gas as much as it is possible and told of many ways that this could be accomplished.

She urged that burners be raised until the flame was not more than an inch and a half below the cooking vessels; that vessels be put on the stove before lighting the gas and that they not be removed before turning off the gas.

Duties of her new office as chairman of the child's welfare department, Mrs. Helen Neuman talked on Mrs. Winters, the new general federation president of Minneapolis, Minn., and Mrs. Winona V. Ford spoke on "The Shakespearean Banquet."

Because of lack of time, Mrs. Stafford's scheduled talk on "Community Spirit" was not given but will be presented at the next meeting to be held soon.

Mrs. R. R. Longworth, president of the Music Club, was not present as she was attending the National Music Association meeting at Akron.

OHIO REPUBLICANS PAID $360,547 FOR VICTORY DEMOCRATS SPENT $69,925

COLUMBUS — The Republicans paid $360,547 for their victory in Ohio at the recent elections, the expert report of the state board. The Democrats filed an expense report, showing they paid out $69,925, with a deficit of $111,000.

FUTURE FRAUGHT WITH DANGER

G. O. P. Boys Squabble Early Over Appointive Places.

EXCUSES MADE FOR DAVIS

Revival of Local Revolution Comes with Clerkship.

(BY J. W. FISHER)

Far be it from this journal of justice to depict anything or anybody in a light that is more unfavorable than warranted by the circumstances; but the parties concerned in the present status of the G. O. P. of Allen-co are admitting—among themselves, and there are leaks, you know—that all is not peace and harmony among them. In fact, the dove of peace has flown out of the window of the Republican household more quickly than was anticipated by foe or friend.

Right now, less than two weeks since the political upheaval that gives the Republicans absolute control in Ohio and in the nation, the squabble among the G. O. P. in Allen-co the trouble dates back to the time of the organization of the executive committee, previous to the election, when long knives were flashed theoretically speaking, and the diminutive permanent headquarters of the committee, third floor Holmes block, was transformed into a Turkish sweat box on a hot evening. A true and honest, knives were sheathed and "harmony" with a big H prevailed—until after the election.

Now war is on again. Volcanic action has succeeded the temporary peace. There's no orange to be peddled and that's where the G. O. P. boys never could agree among themselves. The "apple" was broken sooner than anticipated. And all on account of that William Wallace, now clerkship, before the ink was dry on A. J. Gray's commission as a member of the board, the fight was resumed. The Republican executive committee endorsed Glen Wallace to succeed Bernie Halloran and Gray, being an organization man, favored his comrade who failed to land the clerk of courts job in the election. Then came Water Craig, hold-over member of the board, strong for Herbert Neuffer, to whom it is said he is related. That put it up to Jim Mackenzie, the Democratic member who remains until next September.

However, Jim preferred the role of "innocent bystander," permitting his Republican brethren to fight it out in their own way. It was generally conceded that Wallace was "inside" for the plum place, but hold! There were close conferences and knowing nods and sly winks around "headquarters." Then the machinery moved again. Came the announcement from no less a person than Mr. Neuffer himself that the "dope" was upset; that the endorsement of the committee was shifted from Wallace to Neuffer—that is, all of them save Colonel Gale, and Neuffer is quoted as having said he probably could get along without the Colonel, or he didn't care a rap about Gale's sanction anyway. Something to that effect.

The commissioner clerkship is the first dose of "paw" provided for the cleanup squad and right off the bat they began to argue. What about the harvest will be when the more important places are up for disputation? Since the leaders announce intention to maintain an airtight organization during the next two years, money will be needed to put it over, therefore they might profitably auction off the appointive jobs to the highest bidder, as was attempted at the Chicago convention when the President nomination was the prize. Judging from the manner in which the "circus" is starting off, it bids fair to be a regular three-ring affair, continuous run, with no intermissions.

And the funniest part of the G. O. P. reopened revolution is that an attempt was made to drag Jimmy Mackenzie into it. Somebody, a Republican, perhaps, in the person of W. J. Bryan, suggested that Jim resign from the board, turning the whole works over to the adherents of the party of the pachyderm instant. But Jim, like President Wilson, isn't a quitter and will be on the job until the bell taps next September. Falling in that plan, the place became a popular guy with the contented elements. Both sought "a quiet comfort" from the lone Democratic member, in casting a vote for their particular clerkship desirable. Jimmy just smiles and refuses to become entangled, one way or 't'other. However, should Mackenzie be required to decide between Wallace and Neuffer, it isn't likely that the latter would be the better bet, simply because Jim has a keen perception of what occurred when Neuffer was clerk of the board "once upon a time." A crow bar had to be employed to pry him loose from the job. At any rate, the peddling of the patronage is interesting to watch. Go to it, boys. Your maneuverings and gyrations will relieve the monotony of what threatened to be a dull and uninteresting winter.

And talking about plums, pap, or by whatever affectionate appellation it may be termed, the prospect of the G. O. P. boys in Allen-co, in the state and the nation at large, of getting by with the peddling process without serious dissatisfactions is so remote as to assure that there'll be fireworks aplenty, exultant yells from some and sad expressions for others, with results that are inevitable.

The "pep squad" of the organization isn't going to be satisfied with anything less than authority to dictate the appointments, big and little. The big fish and the small fry are equally noisy. Faces are wreathed with smiles now, but wait until the real fight is on. The small fry are easily distinguishable. They are the folks who appear to have forgotten what it meant to eat humble pie eight and four years ago and anyone known as a Democrat is, in their opinion, far from being the "salt of the earth."

Of course, the Lima postmaster'ship is the big plum. There'll be a lot of applicants for the job. Already the "fish" are lining up with long-jawed and hungry yawns. And the Delphos, Spencerville and Bluffton stamp clerk berths are not to be sneezed at, no sir-ee! It isn't reasonable to believe that Colonel Gale would be satisfied with anything less than a postmaster'ship in Lima, and John Jenkins will probably have up his hind leg for the Delphos job. But when there's Ed. Truesdale for John to reckon with, Ed used to be assistant postmaster at Delphos and he would probably like to drop the "A" and sign "P. M." of course, drawing a salary along with the plum.

Then there's faithful Frank Downing and Arthur "wheel horses" who feed the elephant and carry water to the animal in season and out of season. The two patriots will probably expect to be taken care of. Just who'll be favored in Allen-co by Governor-to-be Harry Davis, by Congressman-to-be John Cable and Senator-to-be Frances Bannett Willis isn't apparent just now. In the pie rush when the pastry is cut, the disaffection in the election of a couple of hundred thousand Republican voters, men and women, in Ohio from the candidacy of Harry L. Davis, justified then, is being afforded proof of justification now. The fact that Harry fun about 200,000 votes behind William G. in the November 2 election proved that not all of his party believed the frantic denials of charges that against his administration as Mayor of Cleveland.

Davis resigned his Forest City job to run for Governor and his successor on the job in the "Sick City" inaugurated an investigation that is right now resulting in a cleanup crusade against votes bought and sold that are termed well nigh intolerable. As a matter of fact, the people of Ohio elected a Governor for whom his party is already making excuses, before he is inaugurated.

Why, they're even going to have Governor Harry under constant surveillance, a group of "older heads" to direct and advise him. This is taken as an admission that he can't be trusted to go it alone. And then there are expressions of determination on the part of those who are standing sponsor for the G. O. P. that Harry will have to be on his good behavior, since he will occupy the highest seat of authority in the state. The Republican leaders appear to fear a repetition of the Willis fiasco as Governor. They realize that should Davis not be an improvement over the "Good Young Governor" that was, they'll be invited outside by the voters before they become even well domiciled down at Columbus.

The Legislature, too, is to be watched by the "older heads." If too many sets of Howe's History of Ohio (in two volumes) are sent out to the "dear people," or if fancy pocket knives are accepted by the members, or if they get into a playful orky and leave inkblots at one another, as they used to do in "good old days" before the indignation electorate "turned the rascals out," then the restraining hand of the organization of "older heads" will be laid on heavily.

We have, ladies and gentlemen, at the very start, a situation for which Republicans themselves are making apologies. They fear the future. The necessity of "kumrums" by the Governor-to-be is manifest by the attitude of the Republican leaders themselves. Yea verily, there do be great times coming.

Those G. O. P. boys, who announce that it is their intention to maintain executive committee headquarters during the next two years and also likewise keep alive their "Fighting club boys," are the wise little fellows, all right. They know that keeping everlastingly at it, gets results.

However, the amount of it they'll be able to do in the state of Ohio after the 1922 election is going to be entirely contingent upon the kind of capors Governor Harry L. slakes from and after January 1, 1921. His most optimistic admirers don't expect Davis to be great shakes as a Governor and expecting little or nothing, they'll not be greatly disappointed if he doesn't deliver. On the other hand, if he does make good, his friends will be as greatly surprised as they were over the magnitude of the victory for the Republican ticket on November 2, which swept Harry into office.

The Bourbon boys many days ago announced their intention to maintain an organization during the next two years, so that nothing will be overlooked in the matter of attaining every possible advantage in the next election. It is also intended, leaders state, to call a meeting of party leaders from all parts of the 4th congressional district, to be held in Lima, soon, to make plans for the future.

Due notice will be given of the time and place of the meeting, so that party men in Allen, Auglaize, Mercer, Shelby, Darke and Miami counties will be informed and participate in effort, there will be no attempt if they desire. As befits a Democrat, made at holding a secret meeting and the get-together event will be open to Democrats from all of the six counties.

The object of this assembly is to adopt plans for future procedure; to eliminate conditions that bring about a party division in a Bourbon district and permit G. O. P. aspirants to take a ride Washington-ways, into congress.

The net result of the election in Ohio on November 2 in the matter of losses to Buckeye Democrats is more disastrous than was at first thought possible. Only one Democratic judge of the court of appeals out of eight vacancies to be filled was elected. The Democrats will have only 13 representatives in the lower house of the legislature and one in the senate. James A. Reynolds of Cuyahoga-co. is the only Democrat in the senate and he'll have a merry time as he will be required to serve on all committees.

There is acute rivalry for the position of speaker of the house. Numerous candidates are in the field and the organization meeting early in December is expected to produce fireworks. An effort is being made to frame up a plan whereby Houston T. Robins of Ross-co will be placed in the speaker's chair in the house. Joseph R. Gardner is mentioned as leader of the Hamilton-co delegation.

About the only consolation the Bourbon boys are able to extract from the recent election and its results is the prospect, now forming, of monkey and parrot times among the victors in the disposition of the appointive places. Republicans are firm advocates of the spoils system and they're not to be blamed for it. They won the elective places and should control the appointments.

Putting into practice the belief that "to the victor belongs the spoils," the G. O. P. folks will be assuming all the burden of responsibility for their tenure of office. During the next two and four years, the state and national administrations will have to make good with a big H if they expect to be returned. The job is a big one and the prospect isn't rosy.

TOUGHEST CRIMINAL HANGED IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO — Chicago's "toughest guy" is dead. Frank Zagar, 22 years of age, effaced his debt to society at the end of a hangman's rope within the grim gray walls of Cook-co Jail. During his last night on earth Zagar spat his twenty-year-old war and reviled his gray-haired, car-corn mother and cursed the priest who offered him spiritual consolation. He suddenly paced the floor of his cell until the time for his execution and then with a defiant oath, walked into the death house.

Zagar was found guilty of shooting down two men in cold blood during hold-up. "They didn't stick their hands up fast enough," he explained. Zagar bragged of his supercriminal career until the very last.

IMPERIAL DIET OF JAPAN TO TOUR AMERICAN CITIES

TOKIO, Japan — Tours of the Chief American cities by members of the Imperial Diet of Japan and the municipal assembly of Tokio seem probable at the present time. The proposition has been discussed by the members of the Diet for some time and if the trip is made it will be during the spring months of 1921. The Diet members plan to take their wives on the trip. Mr. Terada, chief secretary of the Diet, said regarding the trip: "The question of a trip to America had been discussed before the Congressional party came to Tokio. But the security of steamer accommodations blocked the plan, as we could not commandeer a troopship, like the Americans did. The Tokyo city assembly is reported to be planning a trip and if they decide to go they can make their own appropriations for the expenses. Numerous members of the controlling political party are said to be in favor of the plan."

PRICE OF TIRES CUT

AKRON — A reduction in automobile and truck tire prices was announced here Saturday by the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Co. These new prices are now in effect and show reductions ranging up to 15 percent on automobile tires and 15 percent on solid truck tires.

In announcing the price cut the Goodrich company said it was to aid in bringing business back to normal.

RED PERIL SEEN IN MEXICO

Black Clouds of Bolshevism Gathering, Report Says.

LABOR TROUBLES INCREASE

Uprising Planned by Followers of Carranza, Claim.

BY LOUIS P. KIRBY

MEXICO CITY, Mex. — Labor complications, combined with activities against the Government of Carranza conspirators, are causing increasing uneasiness. It is feared that one of two serious situations may be presented. The first is a general strike, with a multitude of idle men and the danger of bolshevism, of which Mexico already has had a taste in some sections. The second is a formidable Carranzista uprising, started under a "smoke screen" of labor trouble. Carranzistas have been busy with their mischief-making for some time. They have had agents not only along "a border" but in the cities of the interior, the conciliating policy of President Adolfo de la Huerta having enabled a number to gain positions in the heart of the country for the spreading of propaganda and for the maturing of plots.

Where the large sums of money used by the Carranzistas are coming from is a matter of great interest here. German liquor dealers and others who were pleased by the unfriendly attitude of the late President Carranza toward the United States and feared prohibition under the present Government, are said to have given liberally to the Carranzista fund. There is even a hint that some money has been added to the Carranzista coffers by British interests, which were disposed to favor Carranzistas in Mexico.

SETBACK FOR GOVERNMENT

The de la Huerta Government is doing all it can to restore industrial harmony, but has met with a serious setback. The owners of the coal mines in Coahuila, where the miners are on a strike, have refused to accept the mediation of the Government and have expressed determination to fight the strikers until hunger forces the men to return to work.

This attitude was taken by the mine owners because they were convinced that the Government favored the striking miners.

Supporters of the Government explaining this apparent leaning of the de la Huerta Administration to labor, said: "In the present state of affairs it would be suicidal to take sides but it would be worse than suicidal, if it is possible to be unfair, or seem to be unfair, to labor. Enemies of the Government are trying to incite the working classes, and as radicals have been preparing the way for years by incendiary agitation, the danger of serious trouble is very real."

The attitude of the mine owners presents the President de la Huerta with his success in the past in settling labor troubles to employers who have yielded to his request that they grant concessions. That is in part true. But when they did that the President has not gained concessions from the labor unions they are in error. There have been concessions on both sides in all of the disputes settled by the present Administration.

As great strikes would delay and seriously imperil the work of reconstruction in Mexico it is the duty of all employers to do all they can to preserve industrial peace."

MORE MINE PROBLEMS

The mine trouble is not confined to the coal mining districts. There are strikes, or threats of strikes, in nearly all of the mining sections. The owners of silver mines, like the coal operators, say that they cannot increase wages. They tell of the recent heavy drop in the price of silver and insist that they are at present maintaining their mines at a loss in hope that an advance in silver will relieve them.

It is said that the coal miners' strike will force 50,000 men into idleness. Mexico today faces conditions most serious, as there are great numbers idle and restless and ready for any sort of undertaking. Don Luis Calvo, Secretary of the Treasury, President Carranza, whose return to Mexico has been vigorously opposed, is meeting the expectations of those who predicted that he would "make" trouble at the earliest opportunity. He has written a long "open letter" to "Cuberto Hidalgo. Assistant Secretary of State, saying that it was the duty of the Government to cover and expose the "secret treaty" affecting Mexico between the United States, France and Germany.

The agitation for the quick punishment of the assassins of President Carranza is still being pressed as part of the present Carranzista propaganda. Until recently General Rodolfo Herrera was chiefly blamed. Now the names of General Francisco Murillo and General Federico Montes are being mentioned as responsible for Carranza's tragic end.

BERLIN WORKERS CELEBRATE

Anniversary is Observed by City's Strike-Breakers.

BERLIN — Germany's patriotic strike-breaking association, "Die Technische Nothilfe," or technical emergency help, this month celebrates the first anniversary of its organization.

It was Die Technische Nothilfe which kept the waterworks and gas works running during the Kapp revolution. This organization numbers about 100,000 enlisted volunteers, who from patriotic motives offer to serve as strikebreakers in any emergency where technical services are required to maintain the functioning of some plant necessary to the life of the community, such as the gas, water or electric light works.

The majority of the volunteers are young men, many of whom are students. They are frequently more willing than competent, as was demonstrated during the Kapp putsch, when the students burned out some of the boilers they were serving at the gas works and lamed the very machinery they were so intent on keeping in order. Over-curious young strike-breakers in the electric light works are alleged to have taken a fancy to taking some of the intricate control apparatus and switchboards to pieces to examine their insides and lacked the knowledge to put them together again.

Despite their frequent youth and folly the Technische Nothilfe is all that stands between the large city and absolute chaos in times of revolution and general strike. The Technische Nothilfe are the heroes of the hour when they straighten out the mess resulting from the shutting off of water for several days with the consequent stoppage of sewerage.

CALLING MANY TIMES

During the first year of their organization the strikebreakers were called in 335 cases, which included mines, mills, sugar factories, hospital work and even grave digging. They were used in 58 electrical power plants 44 gas works and 19 railroad yards.

The middle classes over all of Europe are awakening to the club in the hands of labor in the shape of the general strike, and steps are being taken to insure that the industries absolutely necessary to maintain life, such as the water and gas works, cannot be shut down upon the caprice of some labor group.

FRENCH WOMEN FOR PROHIBITION?

Suffrage Organization's Head Says They Are.

PARIS.—France may become as dry as the United States when French women get the vote. Madame Maria Verone, president of the French Woman Suffrage Organization and well-known lawyer, told the International News Service today.

"Certainly French women are out and out for the prohibition of whiskey, brandy, cocktails and all the heavier alcoholic drinks," said Madame Verone. "They might tolerate wines and light beers, but even that is doubtful."

All the suffrage leaders in France are watching closely the manner in which the women of the United States acquit themselves in the Presidential balloting, Madame Verone said.

"We believe that giving the Presidential vote to women in America, has done much toward helping us to obtain our rights here in France," she said. "The Chamber of Deputies has voted in favor of woman suffrage, and I know of no reason why the Senate failed to ratify that action. One of our best-known Senators had no reply to make except that 'women are made to love and be loved only.' Perhaps the real reason is that many members of the Senate know they would lose their jobs if French women were given the ballot. They know very well that women consider them too old and would cast their votes for young and energetic men."

"Here is one instance to prove that we need women in Parliament. A few months ago the Deputies and Senators voted themselves large increases in salary. They also increased the salary of the President of the Republic from 1,200,000 francs a year to 2,000,000. At the same time they passed a number of laws to have courage French women who fed their babies themselves should receive a pension of fifteen francs a month a little more than one dollar, at the present rate of exchange! Had there been one woman in Parliament she would have laughed down such a ridiculous proposal."

The day all the women of the world get the ballot was virtually a day of triumph for Madame Verone. "This, of course, applies to offensive war," she added. "Should France have to face another defensive war, as in 1914, the women of France will take the same stand they took the last time."

SENTIMENT BOOTS BRYAN

G. O. P. Patriots Lining Up for Party Plum Festival.

(BY MARCUS)

COLUMBUS — One of the things tolerably well settled by the recent reviews and comments of high-minded editors of all shades of faith, or want of it, is that the Democratic party does not wish to be saved by the pink pills of William Jennings Bryanism. If he is to organize it or reorganize it, the party members may as well betake themselves to the woods, for even those who stuck loyally thru the heavy snow storm of November 2 and those who promise to stick to it despite the frosts and fumes of at least two years out of power, are ready to quit. This is the burden of every message which this old reader of the stars has been able to gather from the "voices of humanity in the air" as well as by looking over the coffee grounds for omens, or by examining the thickness of the husks of corn. There is nothing that looks like Bryan, feels like Bryanism, nor impresses the senses that the face of the man in his tent has gained favor with the warriors. It may some time dawn upon the statesman of Chautauqua tents that he stepped into the bottomless pit when he on a June day in 1912 deserted his post of duty with his country in the face of trouble.

Running away from Woodrow Wilson then is the one reason why Bryan does not go big now. The resignation looked too much like surrender to impress the Jacksonians who followed Wilson and were willing to take in his name the nicest little kicking that any party has had in a long spell. They knew it was coming, too, but they refused to run on that account. The fellows who got this bruising had to laugh at the grotesque character of "figgers" but they agreed, by golly, with their leader. James Middleton Cox, that it was defeat and not surrender they had experienced and they expressed the thought generally that never a race was won on a yellow streak and there is no disposition to try now. So the Bryan gesture may be set down as about as important as his efforts to run the San Francisco convention. In Ohio a reward will be offered for an editor or party leader, from precinct captain up, who in his right mind, is so colorless for he has given the Governor a grip like a vice on the party leadership just as a reaction from the contempt which is felt for the Governor.

But to turn from the fellows who will be on the outside looking in to those on the inside of the House of Political Have, in these chilly days, it may be discerned that the greatest share of interest in the Bryan plans is supplied by the Republicans—already falling to worry about the ways of keeping. There was something about the whimsical voting that displeased even those who profited by the landslide. There was a petulance that is not satisfying for study and which carries a vague foreboding of equally violent reactions. In other words, the public temper is as uncertain as the moods of a woman are supposed to be. And there is an awful kick in that voting arm. It may be the reason for so few old-fashioned celebrations of the G. O. P. victory. About half a dozen of them seem to have been held in Ohio and the accounts seem to show that even these had little enough real jazz and vitality to them. And now under the guise of what Republicans were elected to solve looks to many to be as unusual as the voting returns. It's almost too progressive! Eh, what?

But enough of the past! Away with it! The folks now are interested in what is to be, whether there are to be better wages, more work, good business, prosperity and plenty for all, or whether we are to go in to industrial and commercial eclipse for a season. Just now the way industrial plants are shutting down is a caution—Willys-Overland, United Alloy Steel, hosts of smaller ones wages reduced and heaven knows what. The "help wanted" columns in the Sunday newspapers no longer spread over whole pages and the man who has a good job is looked upon with envy, not pity as the late silk shirt days. Cynical Democrats will say that the closed plants have "gone Republican." May be these events would have come anyway but whether they would or not, everything that happens from now on will be charged to the Harding administration. Away back there they used to say that McKimley's election started the wheels of industry and the country believed it. All the huge form of Grover Cleveland still filled the official chair. Now by the same token, W. G. will get the credit even if W. W.'s wasted form still remains in the White House.

There is a bunch of stuff at Marion, Ohio, fully as interesting as the Ellihu Root telegram, made public this week, if it were only given out. This old friend of mankind knows whereof he speaks. The wires have been all but burned with it for the last few months and the mails have groaned with it and yet the secrecy band is so well organized at Marion that nothing has come out, nothing save the Root telegram. What really might be done at this juncture would be to let the people of this country see what members of the Republican party who are or have been in Europe think of the League of Nations. The letters would fill pages but the flood of them would help wash out much of the campaign trash that has accumulated in public information channels. The election is over now and the fight between pro-league and anti-league Republicans is on again, more bitterly now than ever. The flippant remark about the "decease of the league" came as something of a shock to those who saw some of the messages from across the water. And again, this old sage knows whereof he speaks. If these letters were made public the public would gasp and for that very reason they seem to be condemned to remain, like truth, crushed in a lot of inusty letter files.

When Rev. George L. Davis, one of the eight negroes who was beaten for office by Republican voters despite his fair nomination in the primaries, gave it out that he was about to shake the dust of Ohio from his feet, there seemed to be no one to weep. There were wishes fervently expressed that he might take thousands, you can scores of thousands, of his race with him. Rev. Davis bitterly complained that partisan propaganda called the blacks a "menace" and even more bitterly that the white members of his party really believed it. Here was the blow that killed. "Thru burst his mighty heart," as W. Shakespeare said of J. Caesar. The negroes here will work for smaller wages than the whites and therein lies the germ of economic friction, as sure as two and two are four. The way the colored fellows ran in the election gives advance notice of how this petulant public temper looks upon them. As a shrewd negro, Rev. Davis believes in getting in out of the wet quick. And yet he is a leading colored man, generally respected in Columbus where he is known.

As he enjoys his vacation with President-elect Harding down on the Gulf of Mexico and fishes and discusses the big things that are to be done, Harry M. Daugherty, of Columbus enjoys himself. One who wants to know how keenly he relishes his position should study his ups and downs for the year. Once his old enemy, Commodore Robert F. Wolfe, had him excluded from membership in the Republican national convention, a beaten man in Ohio. But Harry always gets up after a licking and he did it in this case, quite promptly, too. The nomination of Harding made people anxious to talk to him and they have grown more anxious every day since that time, more so now than ever. His counts differ as to his cabinet possibility, some of the purveyors of hot tips saying he will go in and others insisting that he will stay out. The word Daugherty left here was that he will not go in, because he wants to be in Columbus to show a lot of people that he is on the town plot. The other side of the story was that he might take the cabinet place for a year to show that he has a strong niche in the Harding gallery, and also because another wants a cabinet job in Ohio, who, by the way, is not wanted. If some inspired writer speaks in this manner he is handing a lot of rough stuff to Hon. George M. Wilber, of Union-co, who has been as loyal to Harding as a man could be, and who has besides a strong press age organization to let the world know that he is ready to be struck by a bolt from the azure blue of Marion, so to speak.

In naming Frank B. Willis to the Senatorship, Harry L. Davis, soon to be Governor, will have an opportunity to make a nice gesture toward Daugherty and the rest before he sets in seriously to construct an administration. The whispered word here is that Davis is to be cut out Daugherty thru and thru. What truth there really is in this seems to be conjectural. Davis and Maurice Muschko are not as close as is believed down state and it may be the anti-Daugherty folks have no such strange hold as they imagine. Davis may develop a great deal of independence and he is daring enough to want to be seated at the head of the table himself and deal with the party leaders as from a sort of Olympus of grandeur and power. Who knows?

Davis has a wonderful opportunity, altho he developed amazing weakness as a candidate. Anything less than a tidal wave would have wrecked his hopes and he can thank his dry Republican friends who took him on hope no less than his wet Democratic friends who took him on despair. But he struggles now, to see who has him as Governor had just begun. He is governed by words, but words never can locate a man—wait for the deeds. The effort to clean up Cleveland seems to indicate that Davis will slant strongly to the law enforcement wing of his party, which is, by far, numerically stronger, in spite of his nomination for Governor. Davis is a good politician, of real cunning at the game and when a friend of his informed the writer that he would wear more and more to the "better element" as he termed it, that friend seemed to be reading the cards before the hands were dealt. The Anti-Saloon League has been kind enough to give him a splendid opportunity. That remains is for him to send out the ditch certain of his old acquaintances and friends and get ready for a career of making the lesser officials mind. This Governor Cox and Harmon, in recent years, were able to do without much noise. But then they were not handicapped by the peculiar element that supported Davis. The cleanup in Cleveland, incidentally, seems to have established about everything that A. V. Donahy had said about the administration there as an encourager of vice and crime.

There will be at Davis' back a special committee of the Republican state committee to help him at the wheel. It is to be called a "steering committee" with plenty of advice and admonition and ready to act for the best interests of the party. There are hopes that the "best interests of the party" may not be found to be in conflict with the best interests of a large lobby which is prepared to descend upon the capital in these coming days. The numerous candidates for office seem to indicate that the lobby has its own plans ready made. Getting a lot of ambitions started is a first step, not only of the devil, but of his modern prototypes, the professional "jobs." The second step is to get a lot of bills introduced and a third one is a long session. That is why the knowing ones like to talk about a short session and few new laws, also few ripper bills or "milkers."

The crop of candidates for state jobs grow ever more numerous. And they will get still more and more plentiful as times slacken and salaries come down and the business of various sorts threaten to blow up. "Sacrifice to serve the state" will be offered to Governor Davis with a liberality that will shock his good Baptist soul. For the past two years it has been hard to keep men. Scores and scores have left the state service and still going at better money than the state paid. But the recent English may now be applied and the men who are not well pleased will welcome the cooling security of a state payroll. There are ten millions in cold cash in the banks to make the state's guarantee good and the taxing power is unimpaired. The candidates have been tarted thus far but more and more of the names are coming out. L. C. Layton looks toward the post of Auditor General, L. C. Herick of Huron-co toward the Highway Commissioner's place, Colonel George Florence toward the Adjutant General's position and ever so many others have their plans of specifications drawn. It is so, too, under the new President. Over in Cambridge, they count seventeen who want to be postmaster and no formal roll has yet been called.

News came in by way of the R. & O. freight line that William H. Walker of Highland-co again aspires to be clerk of the senate. Walker tried for this honor two years ago but the Republican senators looked him over and then decided to stand by old Bill Halley, the present clerk. It seems to be well understood that Halley can not stay and first blood is claimed in this particular by the crowd that is against Daugherty. He, however, will have Captain John L. Maynard as friend and Maynard seems to be slated to go back as clerk of the House of Representatives, being satisfactory to all factions. While factiousists have sat on Halley's case, the Anti-Saloon League may sit on Walker's case. Two years ago he murdered a lot of powerful influences but the old A. S. L. handed him a wallop or two that made him look sick.

GAMBLING CHARGE AGAINST FOUR

Quartette Indicted by Grand Jury Arrested Saturday

MORE SECRET INDICTMENTS

Two Men Given Suspended Reformatory Sentences

Work of the October grand jury, in its recess session last week, is being rapidly revealed to the public.

With arrests made Saturday, but five indictments yet remain to be made public. One of these is for gambling, one for increasing rent rates, one for renting rooms for gambling and two for non-support.

Papers for the arrest of these indicted have been placed in the hands of Sheriff Baxter and he is ready to serve them at a minute's notice, with location of the persons.

George Wolcott, Fred Boggs, Herman McLaughlin and Frank Whaley, arrested Saturday night a week ago when Sheriff Baxter swooped down upon their place in S. Main-st, were secretly indicted by the October grand jury, at their recess session.

They were arrested Saturday upon indictments charging gambling. They will be arraigned Monday or Tuesday. The sheriff took five men in the raid. All were called before the grand jury last Wednesday.

Two men, indicted at the first session, pleaded guilty Saturday and received suspended sentences. They were Walter Wilhelms, indicted for stealing an automobile belonging to Theodore G. Harris of the American bank, and Robert Dunson, Alger, indicted for attack and mistreatment of a young girl from Westminister.

Both were sentenced to the Mansfield reformatory and to pay costs of prosecution. During good behavior, Judge Klutinger suspended the sentences.

ALL THE MONEY YOU HAVE CANNOT BUY TWO WORDS IN THESE COLUMNS

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

IT is always darkest just before dawn, and the business world saw the end of the week clothed in blackest ink. Prices tumbled so fast and furiously on the New York stock exchange that the tape was at times a half hour behind the last sale. There is a reason for the dumping of stocks. All of them are not bad stocks, and many of them are as good as gold in ordinary times, but not now when there is no gold to exchange for them.

The student of business affairs will recall that the panic of 1907 was called a money panic. That is what the furious selling of stocks now might well be termed. The stock market is the one place in the world where you can get money quickly, but nothing can be sold that is not purchased and for the millions of shares sold the past week there had to be buyers. The owners sold to get cash, not because their stock had no intrinsic merit.

And it is cash or the desire for cash, that is causing much of the deflation in all lines of business, and the Ultimate Consumer is the beneficiary. It is still the belief of many good business men that we are under the real bottom at this time, and that prices will slowly swing upward after the first of the year. In other words, it is the narrowest for the buying public, and there is no cause for pessimism in the great rank and file of the masses; rather cause for rejoicing that their day has come.

The outlook in general is far more optimistic than conditions of the day might warrant one in believing. Liquidation of invoices has been in huge volume; stocks are diminishing to the point that will require replenishing; and like a labor strike, we must always remember that everybody has to eat, be clothed and keep warm. We can't quit living, and they will not quit using automobiles; while there are many luxuries which are now necessities. It is only a question of cleaning up the overproduced articles which manufacturers have gone on manufacturing far beyond the needs of the people. Export trade is dead; we have too much for home consumption.

Locally, business is pursuing an even trend, bankers still being engaged in reducing loans and merchants persistent in selling at prices that are crowding their stores. While disappointing in comparison with last year, bank clearings for the week stand up favorably with the past two months.

Lima is rapidly getting its house in order, and only those who will not listen will be caught in the year-end crash. Altogether, The News sees better things ahead; rather than worse.

TWO JOBS FOR LANDIS

PRETTY soft for Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, the jurist who attained fame by imposing heavy fines on malefactors of great wealth.

Impressed with the fact that organized base ball needs a strong hand such as Judge Landis has demonstrated that he possesses, to keep it (base ball) clean and honest and square, the Chicago jurist has taken on the chairmanship of the sixteen major league clubs at a salary of $50,000.

But he doesn't intend to give up his place on the bench. Not he. Judge Landis apparently believes that two birds in the hand are better than one—or a whole flock in the bush.

TIME TO GET SUSPICIOUS

MEN around one of Ohio's biggest manufacturing plants say they get suspicious when promotions and soft jobs are handed out; that it is almost a sure sign of some of those specially favored are about to "get the axe." We have often wondered if, about Thanksgiving time, the turkeys which are overfed and pampered feel that something is about to happen.

BOOSTING RENTS

LIMA has made a fine reputation for fairness in rental charges while other cities have been fighting alleged rent profiteers. There have been few complaints of unjustified increases since the era of high prices set in. The renting public realizes that owners of property must get a fair return on investments and when all other prices rise it is only fair to expect rents to do the same.

While the Allen-co fair-price commission was functioning a few complaints were received and in some instances landlords were told that contemplated raises must not be made. In a great many cases, however, it was found that the property owners were entitled to more money.

The fair-price board passed out of existence under orders from the federal department of justice. However, scattering rent complaints are still received by the chairman of the old commission, indicating that some agency is needed to handle controversies between property owners and renters. Some arrangement should be made whereby civil authorities could make investigations and be vested with power to make binding decisions.

ANOTHER BELIEF SHATTERED

WHEN efforts were being made to make the United States one of the driest places on the face of the earth, one of the chief arguments in the campaign was that men would treat their wives better if they did not have rum. Now comes the head of the Juvenile Protective association of Chicago and, in his annual report, shatters that theory. He says cruelty to wives and children has increased 233 per cent since the advent of prohibition.

Explaining he says: "Men who formerly drank heavily have undergone a reaction which expresses itself in surliness or abuse of the family."

SELLING YOUR CITY

IN listing desirable citizens of a community, one must not overlook the fact that probably the most desirable of them all is the man who is thoroughly sold on his own city and who never misses an opportunity to sell it to someone else—a stranger.

First impressions are the most lasting, 'tis said, and when a visitor meets up with a man who has faith in his own city and who isn't afraid to extol its merits he goes away with a feeling that he has visited a good town.

Lima is a good town. How many of us are thoroughly sold on Lima?

GOOD-NIGHT HOME BREW

GREAT gobs of gloom permeate the domiciles of many home-brew makers since federal prohibition agents have ruled that hops and malt cannot legally be sold to anyone save bakers and confectioners.

Since prohibition became a reality in earnest, those who have a hankering for beer rested secure in the knowledge of permission to keep "their home their castle," brewing their own if desired. Very like the natural sequence of this ruling by prohibition officers will be that "hop and malt runners" will be added to the list of "whiskey runners" and where home brew for home consumption has been permitted, the brew will have to be made "on the quiet," if at all, with the danger of the amateur brewer being haled to court to tell where he secured the "making."

Washington statements are to the effect that a ban is to be laid soon on the sale of hops and malt, with police orders back of it to enforce the edict. Indeed, this prohibition wave is a sad thing for the folks whose gullets itch for something with a kick in it.

MISS LIMA: "The days of our years are fraught with blessings, but the coal shortage and high prices hold the stage."

ABE MARTIN

There is five votes in Tifford Moots family—two silent and three women. What's become of the old time girl that stayed at home when she didn't have nothing to wear.

Famous little animals, and for that engagement he gets something like $38,000. There have been times when we have been peeved enough to walk up and slap a bull in the face with a dishrag. But when it comes to making a living that way, we are in favor of letting Juan do it. Column writing is dangerous enough to satisfy our longing for the spectacular in courage. But it seems queer to imagine a man making a half-million dollars killing cattle. We know a man who has worked in an abattoir out west. All his life and has killed thousands of gentlemen cows and he hasn't got a nickel.

Speaking of the advance of civilization, it is only fair to say that Spain has recently abolished her juvenile courts and schools and kept her bull fights.

We are charmed to note in a recent advertisement of the telephone company that the company now has 15,609 operators. But we wonder why, when we want a number, they have all gone to lunch at the same time.

REFLECTIONS.

As a wild, over by a stream, leaning to view his own fair face, in the watery mirror's gleam. The sad, inevitable trace of Time's rude touch, the while she sheds Her curls all, and fades and dies, So the vain woman sees and dreads The delicate tracery round her eyes, Knowing by this first sign of age, Time's finger moves to turn the page.

"Kissing" says an eminent scientist, "is very dangerous," and he is right. It cost a friend of ours $10,000 one time.

WHAT THE STARS PREDICT TODAY

This day is fairly lucky. It is a fortunate time for seeking favors, position or promotion. Social entertainments will be well directed while this sign prevails. Accidents at sea are forecasted. A medical discovery of greatest value will startle the world at this time. Persons whose birthday this is will have a successful year. Children born today will lead happy lives. (Copyright, 1929)

TODAY'S HEALTH HINTS

By William Brady, M. D.

WEAK EYES AND STRONG EYES

Eyes which are clear and free from redness or congestion are not necessarily strong eyes in the sense of having good vision. A great many people ask whether home acid solution or some other treatment applied to the eyes will "strengthen" the eyes. Boric (formerly called boric acid) dissolved in water freshly boiled, say about half an ounce in a pint of boiled water, makes an antiseptic and comparatively non-irritating solution for bathing the eyes or dropping in the eyes. Provided there is need for an antiseptic in many acute inflammations of the eyes, or eyelids, or rather the lining of the eyelids, there is need for an antiseptic and the boric acid solution may be freely and frequently applied for days or weeks in such cases, with benefit and comfort. But it is futile to apply antiseptics to the eyes or eyelids over periods and, in my judgment, even boric solution should not be used for more than a few weeks, unless by direction of the oculist.

RAVEL ORIGIN—English.

SOURCE—A given name, also an animal.

The identical spelling of the family name Fox and the animal of that name tempts one to the snap judgment that one is simply the development of the other. As it so happens, it isn't. Except in a limited number of cases. The family name of Fox is met with far too frequently to be explained solely as a development either of fox or nickname or the illustrated sign of a shop or inn. This is true also of another "animal" name, Wolf, which will be explained in another article.

It is the many variations of the family name of Fox which give us the clue to its origin in the majority of cases.

The Normans brought into England a given name now obsolete, and which was spelled "Fulcu" or "Fulco." It was a given name quite common in the Anglo-Saxon period, and there were few if any given names which were more popular in the twelfth and thirteenth centuries than this. It is almost as common as the names William and John are today. But as the Anglo-Saxon tongue was altered and the pure Norman-French died out, it became more and more difficult for the English tongue to pronounce, with the result that in different sections the vowel sound changed variously and the pronunciation of the "Ful" in the "Fulcu" sound changed. The existence of the word "Ful" created a natural tendency to vary the name to a similar pronunciation in most cases when the addition of the "son" in the formation of the surname introduced the sound of "ks" and "x" between the two syllables. Thus, in the vast majority of cases, the name has been reduced to Fox rather than to the many other variations.

"ARMISTICE" DUE
ON MONDAYAppointment of Commissioner
Clerk Expected Soon

G. O. P. COMS. STILL CLASH

Rumors of Clean Sweep" of All
Appointive Positions

Altho efforts were made during the day on Saturday to make disposition of appointment of a clerk to the board of county commissioners, to succeed the present incumbent, Bernard Holloran, a Democrat, no headway was made and the latest tip is that the "war" between Republican County Commissioners Walter Craig and A. J. Gray will come to a final close Monday.

LOOKS LIKE WALLACE

That Glen Wallace, defeated Republican candidate for clerk of courts, will pull down the plum, it pays a salary of $125 per month, is right no with the best bet. Wallace has the endorsement of the Republican county executive committee for the place and has the backing of County Commissioner Gray, whose entry into service changed the political complexion of the board.

It is also a fact that Herbert E. Neuffer, favored by Walter Craig, the other Republican member of the board, has not given up hope of landing. Reports from the "inner circles" of the G. O. P. camp Saturday were decisively to the effect that the committee's recommendation of Wallace would stand. In that event, Gray will stick to Wallace and his choice will go thru, unless the Democratic member, James Mackenzie, should vote with Craig in the selection of Neuffer. But that isn't likely.

OTHER CHANCES POSSIBLE

Whether the Republican controlled board of county commissioners will endeavor to make changes in other positions that come under their control, remains to be seen. As it is a well known fact that Republicans are strong for the spoils system, it is possible that D. W. Dorr, custodian at the Memorial Hall, at a salary of $125 per month may "walk the plank." There's another place at Memorial Hall at $35 per month that the Republicans may seek to bring under the patron rule—in charge of the relic room. This place is at present held by a woman.

L. C. Sigler, superintendent of the county home, more familiarly known as the infirmary, is under civil service and proposes to stand pat if an attempt is made to fire him to make way for another "bird." This place pays $109 per month and other perquisites with a nation at $50 per month.

Then there's the rest room at the court house in charge of a woman, appointed under civil service. The position pays $15 per month.

Whether there are new appointees slated for these places, despite the civil service law, is problematical at this time, but the G. O. P. boys don't usually overlook a bet.

MAY ANTICIPATE FIGHT

However, if an attempt is made to replace Sigler in charge of the county home, there'll probably be one of the hottest little fights the county has witnessed in some time, as Sigler has announced his intention to resist such a plan, making the civil service law under which he attained his position, his defense.

Representatives of the G. O. P. who are talking about making a clean sweep" of appointive positions, are not making charges of incompetency or anything of that sort against the present incumbents, and a move to oust appointees in favor of others picked by Republican executive committee, it will be done for the purpose of affording "reward for services rendered."

ONLY AN ARMISTICE

There's this much practically assured in the contention between Commissioners Gray and Craig over the appointment of a clerk of the board. No matter whether Wallace or Neuffer is named the suspension of hostilities will be only in the form of an armistice. Real peace will not be declared and the "war" may break out again at any moment.

G. O. P. COMMITTEE
REPORT DELAYEDBook of Check Stubs Lost—Saturday Last Day for Filing

A lost book of check stubs delayed the Allen-Co Republican executive committee in its work of preparing a report of receipts and expenditures during the recent campaign and the board of elections was informed Saturday that the report would not likely be ready before Monday.

Altho Saturday was the last day of grace under the corrupt practices law for the filing of the report, under the circumstances a delay will probably be permissible. As soon as the book of check stubs was located the report was started.

Chairman Lehr E. Miller, of the Democratic county executive committee, reported receipts totaling $3,452.54 and expenditures of $3,429.18, leaving a balance of $23.66. Among the last of the Democratic candidates who filed expense accounts were:

V. H. Ray, defeated aspirant for the post of county coroner, who expended $15.

Harry O'Connor, who lost out for prosecuting attorney, expended $423.90.

John T. Cotner, successful candidate for county clerk, reports an outlay of $378.40.

WOE BEGINS FOR

NIMRODS READY FOR WORK

Field and Wood Due for Bombardment This Week

It kept two persons busy at the desk in the county clerk's office Saturday, issuing hunter's licenses. The reason may be ascribed to the opening of the rabbit season Monday.

The rush began Friday night, when hunters crowded into the office, all anxious to secure permits. Men who were engaged in labor which prevented their visiting the office during open hours sent their wives for their licenses.

Women old and young appeared at the desk and answered the necessary questions so that hubby could indulge in his usual hunt.

LICENSES GALORE

"We don't know how many we issued, but just look at the mon." Deputy Clerk of Courts Robert L. Clem said, exhibiting several fistful of greenbacks and silver. "Both father and I worked all morning, issuing them just as fast as we could write," he said.

Most hunters wish to get an early shot at the cotton-tails and will be out with the first streak of dawn. Hence, they secured their license the past week.

Farmers say rabbits are not very plentiful and as most of them object to hunters on the farm, the day's sport Monday may not be as pleasant as its anticipation.

The cotton tails which are running over the country are fat and will make nice eating farmers say. The big corn crop the past year has been responsible for the rabbit getting his share and he has grown fat and saucy on the diet.

HUNT RABBIT TILL JANUARY 1

The open season for rabbits continues from November 15 until January 1st, both dates inclusive. The limit is ten per day to each hunter. It is unlawfully to take a rabbit with a ferret or to have a ferret in possession or under control in any field or forest of the state, or while hunting, going hunting or returning from hunting. Owners of young fruit orchards may use a ferret to destroy rabbits when they are doing actual and substantial damage to fruit trees. Rabbits may be hunted from one hour before sunrise to one hour after sunset.

Monday marks the beginning of the open season for pheasants and ruffed grouse, from November 15 to 25th. Limit, three in one day. Pheasant cock birds only may be taken. Hungarian partridge may be killed between November 15 and 25th. Limit, six in one day. No hunting of any kind allowed on Sunday.

Hunters now also have the advantage of open season on aquatic wildfowl, as specified in the game laws, details of which appear on the licenses issued, so that there will be no excuse for any hunter being misinformed or lacking in information.

The Lion Club of Lima received their official international charter Friday evening from the district governor, Dr. Wm. Beatty of Dayton, at a dinner meeting at the Norval Hotel. The presentation of the charter came as a surprise to the members, who had not expected it so quickly.

Enthusiasm featured every moment of the meeting which opened with a dinner in the main dining room of the hotel. Several new members were present and old and new alike are optimistic now that the future of the club is assured.

Findlay and Fostoria were represented by Fred T. Davis, international organizer and field secretary who is in charge of the organization work being carried on in those cities. Mr. Davis spoke of the work being done in neighboring cities and complimented Lima upon so early receiving a charter.

Dr. Beatty gave an interesting account of the work done in Ohio under his governorship. Lima is the 18th club to receive a charter and there are six more being organized.

He described the principles of Lionism as applied to every day life, and urged upon his audience the necessity and personal value in following those precepts. As state president, Dr. Beatty congratulated the local club on its official entry into the lists of the state organization.

Following his talk, Dr. Beatty presented to the club the charter, which was accepted by the local president.

Remarks were also made by A. M. J. Gibbons of the Dayton club who accompanied Dr. Beatty; Service Director Elmer McClain; E. B. Lewis and Arthur Malkin, field secretary of the international Lions Club.

An excellent program had been arranged by the entertainment committee which included duets and solos by Misses Vera and Rexa Duck a piano solos by Miss Lead Simmons Group singing was also a pleasing feature.

The officers of the Lima Lions Club are: R. E. Ashley, president; Rev. Kyle Booth, first vice president; E. C. Yankling, second vice president; Stanley Chenoweth, third vice president; V. H. Ray, secretary-treasurer; E. H. Hedges, sergeant, and Paul Scoles, Lion tamer.

THEATRE PATRONS TAKE TO COMEDY BEST

"Heartbreak House" Was Held Back from Public by Producers Until After the Presidential Election, for Reasons

Mark Twain's "Prince and Pauper" Is Revived by William Faversham—Gossip of the Stage by a Recognized Authority

(By FREDERICK F. SCHRADER.)

NEW YORK.—Three new plays are offered at as many different theaters this week. The list includes George Bernard Shaw's comedy, "Heartbreak House," described by the author himself as "a fantasia in the Russian manner on English themes." Beyond this there is silence, and as the production by the Theater Guild is not due until late in the week I cannot let my readers into the secret of its drift. It must be peppy, since the author would not permit this, its world premier, to take place until after Mr. Harding was elected.

At the Central Theater a musical extravaganza began its engagement under the title of "Afgar," in which Miss Alice Telysia, a French singer, appears in the leading part, which she is said to have played during long runs in Paris and later at the London Pavilion. "Afgar," with a musical score by Charles Cuvillier, is by various French and English authors, setting forth how the favorite wife of Lord Afgar, a Moorish nobleman, endeavors to organize his other wives into the Harmon Ladies' Union, No. 1. But of this more anon.

Mr. and Mrs. Coburn, who made such a remarkable hit in "The Better 'Ole" a few seasons ago, are appearing this week at the Belmont in an English comedy by Reginald Berkeley, entitled "French Leave." The piece is credited with a five months run at the present time at the Apollo Theater, London.

Dramatic versions of Mark Twain's "The Prince and the Pauper," which have gone before have not come up to expectations, but the latest version in which William Faversham is now appearing, promises better. The theme is alluring. The pauper playing at being a prince exchanges place with the youthful son of Henry VIII, whom he resembles. Dual roles have been favorites with producers ever since Alexander Dumas wrote "The Corsican Brothers." While the earlier versions owed considerable of what popularity they possessed to Mark Twain's name, it was a case of the name overshadowing the play. It is now acted substantially on its merits, and the touches which the latest author has applied to the characters, incidents and situations have really been for material betterment. Everybody in the cast who can act is given a chance to act his best. The result is that some of the chapters are made to stand out in clear and ford's famous book by Mrs. George Norman and Margaret MacKenzie.

William Faversham, in a fit of confidence, says that for years he had been wanting to play in "The Prince and the Pauper," and he is persuaded that now is the time for a romantic play to vary the monotony.

Truth to tell, we have been smothering under a dull gray layer for a considerable time, and a good romance in dramatic form is a pleasant relief. Dikrichstein recognized the opportunity and seized it last season when he scored in "The Purple Mask" which is a romantic play of the "Lionel Lincoln" type, with a purpose, bordered closely on pure romance. The relief comes with grateful appreciation because of a dearth of good sociological plays rather than from a howling demand for romantic drama. The mainstay of the theaters has been the crook drama and plays dealing with crimes and detectives and mysterious murders. Every playwright seemed to imagine himself a Poe or a Conan Doyle, and the result was far from gratifying in the majority of examples. There is always a rush in a certain direction when that direction has once been indicated by the success of a certain kind of a play, and many of the plays of the last season, and it is hard to select a manuscript that trends familiar ground; you have to be almost an iconoclast, an idol-smasher, to get them to try something new. Both Dikrichstein and Faversham are actor-managers, or at least financially interested in their productions, and seem to prove an old theme, that actor-managers are often more progressive than the purely commercial producer.

"French Leave" dallies with the late war, without, however, smashing things up and otherwise irritating the nervous system of the audience by an attempt at visualizing its horrors, for which, much thanks. And even the spy device is introduced, it is delectably done and under circumstances that make for laughter rather than shocks.

It is all about the adventures of the wife of Captain Harry Glenister in her determination to see her husband who has been at the front and is shortly to return there. The bridge to which he is attached is quartered at a French farm house back of the fighting lines. Having failed to greet the captain on his furlie in Paris, his wife undertakes to evade the regulations against visiting wives in the army. She persuades the farmer's wife to pass her out as her own daughter, and so becomes Mlle. Juliette, a pliant, vivacious flirt, who, in her broken English, and with wayward eyes, soon has the whole staff demoralized, to the keen discomfort of the jealous Captain. However, she manages to have some clandestine meetings with her husband, and this discovery leads to the suspicion that she is a German spy. Thanks to the hearty good nature of the commanding general, the tangle is soon straightened out, and her temperamental ruse is taken in good part.

The long-expected revival of "Erminie" was launched Monday evening at the Academy of Music, Baltimore, with Francis Wilson in his old role of Cadeaux and De Wolfe Hopper in the part of Ravensnes. Reports received on the Rialto indicate that the performance met with a cordial reception. No date has been fixed for its New York appearance, but it is confidently expected to last out the season. For five years past Wilson has been devoting himself to the affairs of the Actors' Equity Association, and this is his first public appearance in that time.

Berlin has given the Rialto a new hint, which may or may not be acted upon by a score of playwrights who will confidentially inform you that they have the completed script of a play which will make the fortune to any producer. All they need is the producer. This Berlin genius wrote a play entitled "Europe," which is said to be one of the best cynical satires on modern sociological and political conditions ever put on the stage. He was arrested for theft and from pure sympathy the theater is crowded at every performance. The man had the genius but lacked nourishment. He was fortunate in having his case aired in the papers, and because hungry people always sympathize with other hungry people, they are forgetting the cravings of nature in the enjoyment of the satire.

A more or less well-known playwright called my attention to the case by showing me the clipping from a Sunday newspaper and argued that any playwright was justified in stealing and going to jail if he could thereby insure the success of a production.

"This play," he said, "has for its theme the wooing of Europe by Zeus. It is decidedly Offenbachian. The idea is immense. I wouldn't hesitate to steal it, but Broadway never heard of Zeus and wouldn't know what it was all about."

Nobody seems to know what, but something has happened that has caused the retirement of G. P. Huntley, the English comedian, from the cast of "Hitchy-Koo" and the substitution of Lawrence Grossmith in the part in which Huntley made his reëntree on the American stage only a few weeks ago. It may be a cold or it may be a question of precedence with Mr. Hitchcock, who has been called the American Huntley.

Today dancing ceases to be simply a pleasure; it is a necessity. ## THE DEVIL'S PASSKEY

Picture of Paris, the wicked and Paris, the wonderful

Better than Blind Husbands
UNIVERSAL-JEWEL PRODUCTION DE LUXE

A sensational photo-drama of woman's greatest temptation. It's true. It's real. It's GRIPPING because it pictures some people YOU KNOW WELL, in the one tremendous crisis of their lives.

Paris? You'll think you're there! The races at Longchamps, the Theatre Francaus, the gay boulevards, the glittering shops, the whirl of society, and, in the midst of it all, an American playwright and his all-too-pretty wife, admired and famous and then, suddenly, the storm centre of a frightful scandal that sets all Paris by the ears.

Suspense? YOU SAID IT! When you near the end of this wondrous drama you'll be on the edge of your seat, unable to take your eyes from the screen. It's REAL! It's HUMAN! It's LIFE—"THE DEVIL'S PASSKEY." See it without fail. Genius doesn't shut every day.

PROMINENT STARS IN CASTS

Diversified Program Offers All

(By ESTHER WAGNER)

Among the list of special productions to be exhibited at local theatres this week are the works of several popular authors. Following on the heels of the splendid program seen at leading theatres the last week, this new program is perhaps a trifle more interesting and well-balanced.

The Regent's new program contains two splendid features, the first, being exhibited today and for three weeks, being "The Splendid Hazard" from the back by Harold MacGrath. This production carries an unusually competent cast including Rosemary Theby and Henry B. Walthall.

Beginning Wednesday, a Goldwyn special "His Own Law" will be featured. Robert Bosworth has the leading role in this production, and it is his first appearance under the Goldwyn banner.

"The Devil's Pass Key" produced by a master, Eric Von Stroheim comes to the Lyric today for four days starting today. Universal has exploited this film to a great degree and everywhere it has been shown it has aroused much comment. An all-star cast is seen in the picture.

Oliver Thomas, whose recent death has been so keenly mourned by thousands of her admirers will be seen the last of this week at the Lyric in "Darling Mine."

Nazimova is the attraction at the Sigma today, appearing in "Madame Peacock." As usual, Alla wears the utmost in bizarre and fantastic costumes and gives a splendid performance. Her husband does not appear with her, as he usually does.

The queen of vamps Miss Theda Bara, whom we haven't seen for a long, long time, makes her appearance via the screen at the Sigma on Wednesday. Miss Bara will be shown in "The Lure of Ambition."

The program to be seen at the Majestic during the forthcoming week includes such stars as: Charles Ray, William Desmond, Alice Brady and Olive Thomas, who are an ensemble, don't you think?

"Staking His Life" is appearing today at the Rialto theatre, with William S. Hart doing the leading role. A Tale of Two Cities will also be seen at the Rialto the last of the week, in which William Farnum is the hero.

"THE SPLENDID HAZARD" An Alan Dwan production, and from the pen of Harold MacGrath. "The Splendid Hazard" features, among other things, an all-star cast, with Henry Walthall, Rosemary Theby and Joseph Dowling in the leading roles.

The story concerns a certain Karl Breitman, who discovers that he is a descendant of Napoleon and plans to restore the lost glory of his grandfather. There's a hidden treasure, too, that proves many thrills, a duel and a prima donna who loves Karl, however diabolical his schemes, have all else. There is action galore and beautiful scenes.

"The Splendid Hazard" is showing at the Regent theatre today and for three days.

"THE DEVIL'S PASS KEY" Paris life, with all its glamour and brilliance is beautifully depicted in "The Devil's Pass Key," a super-picture released by Universal. Eric Von Stroheim personally directed the production.

"The Devil's Pass Key" is the story of a playwright and his devoted wife, a handsome but immoral soldier who looks with favor upon the playwright's wife, and a striking dancer. There are many gorgeous scenes and dances, and neither time nor money has been spared to make of it one of the year's most brilliant productions.

It's appearing today and for four days at the Lyric theatre.

"MADAME PEACOCK" Nazimova has a double role in the production "Madame Peacock," that of an actress who leaves her family to lead a life of gaiety, and also the role of the daughter who turns up just at the time her mother needs her most.

There is a fine cast seen in support of the versatile Nazimova, including George Probert, Albert Cody, Gertrude Claire and Rex Cherryman. The scenery and direction is said to be unusually good.

"Madame Peacock" opens a three day engagement today at the Sigma theatre.

"MADAME PEACOCK"

Those who like Nazimova best as the gorgeous woman of the world, the celebrity has ample opportunity for pleasure today at the Sigma theatre in witnessing "Madame Peacock," the Russian star's latest Metro picture, adapted from Rita Weisman's story. And those who find especial delight in Nazimova as the appearing youngster, the doughty poor little girl were likewise satisfied—rather more than that, in fact.

For in "Madame Peacock" Nazimova has the first dual role chosen since the great Chinese spectacle, "The Red Lantern." Rita Weisman has drawn two distinct characters in Jane Goring and Gloria Cromwell, both taken by the star.

The skillful direction of Ray C. Smallwood and no less capable photographic work by Rudolph Bergquist, projected against Edward Shulter's stunning art settings all contributed to supplement fittingly the star's greatest achievement on the screen.

NOVELTIES AT THE ORPHEUM

The new vaudeville bill of six acts, which starts its engagement for the first half of this week, at the matinee at the Orpheum theatre this afternoon, is a program of genuine novelties entirely different in every detail of amusement offered, from anything heretofore presented in Lima this year. Combined with the oddity of each brand of entertainment, it is declared, are comedy irresistible, harmony entrancing and an elaborate and massiveness of scenic environment and stage setting and a gorgeousness of costuming unequalled thus far in years.

The headline attraction for today, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday is Lolotto's Skating Bears, declared to be the best act of its kind now before the American theatregoing public. The presentation of this act to vaudeville, it is said, is made possible only thru the recent closing of the circus and tented show seasons, releasing the Skating Bears for a limited winter tour of the principal variety playhouses. It is asserted that Lolotto's Bears perform a routine of feats almost unbelievable. Thus, the circus season just closed, the bears were the featured animal act with the biggest tented show on earth.

Lew and Mollie Hunting are an extra added offering on this bill. Wherever vaudeville is presented, the names of these artists are engraved in the hearts and affections of the patrons of variety. They come to the Orpheum with an act of laughter and lightheartedness which is guaranteed to please. A special feature de luxe will be "Apple Blossom Time," heralded as "A Rollicking Rural Rendezvous of Mirth and Melody." Morton Brothers, who call themselves "paperologists and harmonica experts," are expected to score one of the outstanding hits of the bill. "A man, a maid and a ragtime piano" is the way Shepard and Ott describe themselves. Klein and Clifton will offer a scintillating lot of novel songs, dance and dialogue.

The last half of the week, starting at the matinee Thursday, will have as the featured artists the world renowned "Juglout Mertos," who will present "a whirlwind of dexterity and daring." Other acts starting Thursday matinee will be Bert and Babey Ross, in a delightful advertisement of youth and joyousness; LaValle and Loan, in a cycle of humor and harmony; Lew Rice, the celebrated comedian; Rose, Armstrong and James, in an oddity with a punch; Gilbert and Saul, in an offering of real artistry.

A MUSICAL PROGRAM WILL BE PRESENTED ON SUNDAY EVENING AT 7 O'CLOCK BY THE MAJESTIC ST. PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH CHORUS: SOPRANO, MRS. E. E. GOODING; ALTO, MRS. R. O. WOODS; TENOR, J. ALLEN GRUBB; BASS, FRED M. CALVERT; ORGANIST, MRS. FRED M. CALVERT.

"The Devil's Passkey"

SENSATIONAL PHOTODRAMA OF WOMAN'S GREATEST TEMPTATION

Lima amusement lovers, especially those who are partial to the screen, have a delightful surprise in store on Sunday when "The Devil's Passkey" comes to the Lyric theatre. The plot of this story is the incarnation of cleverness. It carries with it suspense which is all but unbearable. Picture the situation of a husband one moment a successful playwright, applauded by all Paris after years of grinding effort, the golden prize at last in his hands, the next moment a thing of scorn and contempt, ruined for life, cast into the outer darkness without hope when he least is that the masterpiece he has created has been built upon the sins and indiscretions of the wife whom he has idolized and adored. And Paris! Oh, but you will see this world famed city in all its glory, its glitz, its wonder and its wickedness as you have never dreamed of seeing it before. The producer has seen the exterior which suggest Paris to the very letter. He has employed whole street scenes and peopled them with vehicles peculiar to Paris. And the bath room scene in which La-Ble Odera has one of her tiny feet maneuvered is like an animated drawing. Yet withal, "The Devil's Passkey" is splendidly clean and ends happily, but between the start and finish you'll feel suspense as you've never felt suspense before. You'll sit helpless and amazed before this wonderful picture in its march of inevitable events and go out to tell your friends that it is the greatest photo-drama you've ever seen. Remember, at the Lyric for four days, beginning today.

A delightful meeting of the College Women's Club was held Saturday afternoon in the lounge room of the Hotel Norval, a large attendance being on hand at the promise of a program of more than usual interest. Miss Harriet Marimon, Akron, a Y. W. C. A. worker, was the chief speaker of the afternoon. Mrs. Kent Hughes gave an interesting talk on "Glimpses of California," after which Mrs. E. J. Curtis pleased the audience with several songs. A dinner was served at 5:30, attended by members and a number of guests.

There have been three home meetings planned by the club to be scattered thru the year, while the remainder of the meetings will be held at the Hotel Norval. Miss Harriet Marimon, who so delighted the College Women's club with her enthusiastic lecture on "Y. W. C. A. work Saturday afternoon," has to her credit an A. M. degree from Transylvania University of Lexington, Ky. Miss Marimon has also taken a post-graduate course at Ann Arbor, later becoming dean of Fulton College, a Presbyterian college of Fulton, Mo., and is now an ardent and active worker in the "Y. W. C. A." field. Miss Marimon is a guest at the John Harrison home, W. Market-st while in Lima.

VELVET SUIT HAS BEAUTY FOR BOTH LINE AND COLOR

BY ELOISE

If one wants a dressy suit there is nothing more beautiful than one made of soft velvet. The velvet suit or gown is always elegant and distinctive, no matter what the style or color for the fabric itself makes for beauty. It has been almost prohibitive in price the last few seasons, and so we have seen little of it. This year, however, it is coming back strong and is seen in frocks, suits and more particularly in evening gowns.

Here is a most chic and unusual suit made of Zansibar brown velvet. It is fetchingly trimmed with fitch fur and set off with furnished gold braid and buttons. The short skirt is a new feature in the suit world this season, and the short little youthful jacket makes a becoming accompaniment for the skirt. Such a suit is smart for dress wear at any hour or upon any occasion.

Mrs. J. S. Myers, 606 W. Market-st will hold the west-end cabine club at her home Wednesday evening.

The Woman's Missionary Society of Market-st Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. W. L. McDonald, 621 W. Market-st Wednesday, November 17 at 2:34 o'clock. Mrs. Heucker will be in charge of devotional service. Mrs. Louise McDonald will give a brief outline of the home and foreign topics for November.

The meeting will be a greeting to our new Presbyterian president, Mrs. E. E. Hughes of Bluffton, who will give a talk upon the topic, "What Shall We Render?" The social hour will be in charge of a committee with Mrs. M. E. Sealts as chairman. This will be our "Home Thanksgiving" meeting and everyone is cordially invited to be present.

Ernest Arthur Kraft, of the Trinity Cathedral in Cleveland, will appear at the Market-st Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon in an interesting organ recital. The program includes: Allegro Apparitions from 5th Sonata, Alexander Gullatt Minuet, Concert Prelude and Fugue, William Faulkes Dreams, Roy S. Stoughton Rhapody, Rosseter G. Cole Pastorale, H. Alex. Matthews Tocatta, Homer N. Bartlett Spring Song, Alfred Hollins Finale from the First Symphony, Louis Vierne.

Mrs. Schide was made president and reporter, Mrs. Steer, vice president, Mrs. Whitney, secretary and treasurer. Contests were given by Mrs. Steer and Mrs. Healy, a delicious three-course luncheon following. Mrs. Taylor, 717 E. Second-st will hold the next club meeting in three weeks.

The Jolly Seven Club met with Miss Elizabeth Rupert at her home Friday evening. Several contests furnished entertainment and amusement for the members, followed by refreshments. Attending were Miss Esther Sweeney, Mary Roush, Janet Simonton, Mary James Steiner, Janet Radabaugh, and the hostess, Mrs. Isabelle Rupert and Doris Simonton.

Needlework was the chief diversion of the afternoon at the meeting of the Quindocin club Friday afternoon, Mrs. Willard Pennell, S. Washington-st, Van Wert was hostess. Music and a dainty luncheon added to the day's pleasure.

The next joint meeting of the Arbutus, Lotus and Woman's club will be held at the home of Mrs. C. A. Black, W. Market-st. The speaker for the day will be Professor H. L. Lutz, Oberlin College. His subject will be "Food Economy," which will undoubtedly be most interesting to the members.

Mrs. Lloyd N. Prince and daughter Elsie Jane, Sioux City, Ia., are expected to arrive this week to attend the wedding of Mrs. Prince's sister Miss Elsie Weisbaum to Bernard Blum.

SHORT SHAVINGS

An old dandy announced that he had invented an automatic collection basket, which would be passed around by the deacons of his church.

"It is so arranged, my brethren," said he, "that if you drop in a quater or half dollar it falls noiselessly on a red plush cushion; if you drop in a nickel it goes a bell that can indistinctly be heard by the entire congregation; and if you drop in a nickel, my brethren, it falls off a pistol."

There was an extra good battle billed at the Los Angeles arena recently and by noon on the day of the contest the house was reported to be sold out solid—not a ticket to be had.

Harry Pollard then challenged "Hannay" to show his cards. Pollard had no more than entered the ring that night when he encountered the smiling "moocher."

A Better Butter Substitute

KEYKO

IN THE KITCHEN KEYKO IS SUPREME

Fry that chicken in KEYKO. You'll never again regret that you can't afford butter for frying.

It's the flavor of butter that makes things fried in butter so delectable. As a matter of fact, it takes a lot of butter and a mighty competent cook to do it right. Lard is easier to handle, but of course lacks that butter flavor. But fry with KEYKO once and learn the real joys of fried meats, eggs, potatoes, and the host of good things that are better fried.

In a hot frying pan the basic merits of KEYKO are amazingly apparent. You see then that there is actual body and substance to this delicate food. You get the golden brown that is the pride of a good cook. You get fried foods that harmonize with the digestion. And you get a flavor that the most delicate palate will gratefully greet.

DIVORSE AND DAN CUPID TIE

Two Separations and Two Marriage Licenses Are Granted.

The little love god, Dan Cupid, raced with the divorce bug at the Allen co. court house Saturday.

Question to be decided by the race was whether the sacredness of the home and marriage should predominate, or whether separation should win the day.

The two tied. Dan could "wing" only two couples, with the aid of his arrows, which are flying in every direction, divorce had two couples to his credit, when Judge Klinger closed the trial docket for the day.

John N. Adams was given a decree from Flora A. Adams, on the grounds of desertion and adultery. The property settlement of the parties was approved by the court. Adams was awarded custody of their child. Her dower in his property was barred.

John L. Gray was divorced from Edna M. Gray, on the grounds of desertion. Mrs. Emma Fuller's motion for alimony from her husband, Jesse Fuller, during pendency of their divorce, was passed until the case shall be heard on its merits.

MONARCH FOUNDRY CO. PLANT IS OPENED

Smith charged the lot was not as large as Coss represented it to be. He asked rescission of the contract and the amount of $440 paid upon it.

A LOCAL DRUG STORE COMPETING AGAINST THE DRUGGISTS OF THE UNITED STATES

Their Competing Window Is On Display Now and Should Win the Prize

Hunter's Drug Stores have entered the Tyrrell Hygienic Institute's window display contest competing against the druggists of the United States.

The competing window is now on display and is undoubtedly one of the most attractive displays to be seen and should bring the coveted prize to Lima. This display is worth a trip to see. The special window is marked "Entered in The Tyrrell Hygienic Institute's Window Display Contest." It is interesting to note the concentration and artistic arrangement of the general layout.

Don't Neglect That Cough or Cold

A Home Remedy That Can Be Depended Upon.

No one can afford to neglect a cough or cold. Neglect often causes serious results. The best time to doctor is when the first indications of a cough or cold appear. Coughing weakens the delicate membrane of the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs. This makes a fertile field for the development of germs. The cold, grip or tonsillitis germs should be killed before they have time to get imbedded into this delicate membrane. Get three ounces of Glando Pine. Mix this with enough syrup or honey to make a pint and you have a safe, sure and reliable remedy to use. It takes hold of a cough in a hurry. The first dose opens the air cells and makes you breathe deep and easy. Glando Pine is easily prepared. Directions accompany each bottle. It tastes well and can be given to young children.

Don't be careless, but begin today to safeguard yourself against coughs and colds. A dependable remedy at hand means a great deal to any family. Remember the name, Glando Pine. You can get it of your druggist, or it will be sent you by the Glando-Aid Co., Port Wayne, Ind. — Adv.

Mrs. Iversen Tells How Cuticura Healed Water Blisters

"I was troubled with little water blisters on my hands and face. They formed a scaly surface causing the skin to be red. The blisters then took the form of sore eruptions and I could hardly stand the itching and burning. I could scarcely sleep, and could not put my hands in water unless I wore rubber gloves. I used remedies but they did not help. A friend asked me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I sent for a free sample and was relieved. I bought more, and when I had used three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Mrs. Kay Iversen, Lakeview, Mich., January 22, 1920.
Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum are all you need for all toilet uses. Bathe with Soap, soothe with Ointment, dust with Talcum.

"Y" SECRETARY FROM CHINA ADDRESSES MEN OF FOREMEN'S CLUB

A. C. Weber, of the Garford company, presided at a dinner meeting of the "Y" Foremen's Club at the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening, more than 100 being present.

The principal address was delivered by Tom Elliott, "Y" secretary in Amoy, China, for the past 13 years. Mr. Elliott explained the industrial conditions and the natural resources of China. The latter are wonderful, he says. Elliott stated that China has sufficient coal to supply the world for 2,500 years.

Other nations have not been giving China a square deal, he said, and the natives are looking to America for leadership in the world along educational, industrial and religious lines. The Chinese feel very kindly toward America, he said.

LEGION STAGES BOUT HERE MONDAY NIGHT

With the Legion boxing carnival in Lima Monday night at Memorial Hall, Dopesters are busy trying to figure out if McHenry has the actual punch that will enable him to block "Red Cap" Wilson, the tricky little Italian fighter from New York.

When they fought here three weeks ago, both were as evenly matched as two fighters could possibly be. But a fortunate blow in the last 15 seconds of their scheduled 10-round bout, floored McHenry for the count.

After the fight McHenry said it was the first knockout he had ever received in his career and was anxious to meet the fighter who floored him. Legion promoters got busy and as a result two weeks later McHenry's contract was received for another match and Wilson soon followed with his.

Both boys are anticipating a live-

Charley Rogers, Charlie Best's clever Indian pug, is whipping into shape for "Big Iron" Turner.

CARPENTIER IS HOME AGAIN

PAIRS — George Carpentier, heavyweight boxing champion of Europe, arrived here Saturday evening from New York.

A great crowd met him at the Gam St. Lazare. Several men swung him to their shoulders and carried him to a waiting automobile. He was showered with bouquets by women and girls. He smiled, waved his hand and finally made a brief speech, thanking the people for their reception.

When Carpentier landed at Harry's home in the day, he was greeted by several French and British sportsmen. He told them he intended to rest until he left for the United States in February or March to begin training for his championship match with Jack Dempsey.

WEST VA. HOLDS RUTGERS TO 0

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. — Rutgers weakened before West Virginia in the last quarter Saturday and the Mountaineers rushed over two touchdowns, bringing their total for the day to 17 points. Rutgers was unable to score. Johnson, of West Virginia, kicked a goal in the first quarter.

Carl Beck and Homer Martin outbroke with long runs in the last period and scored the two touchdowns.

NOTRE DAME IS AGAIN WINNER

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — Notre Dame's scrappy football eleven lived up to its name of "Fighting Irish" here Saturday, when it defeated Indiana for the state collegiate football championship.

At the end of the third period, Notre Dame faced a score of 19 to 0 in favor of the opponents. Two touchdowns in the final period gave them victory. Notre Dame five and one was tied.

MOTHER SEES SONS BATTLE ON RIVAL TEAMS SATURDAY

PRINCETON, N. J. — Tears for the Bluejays, cheers for the Gold and Black.

These were the emotions of a gray-haired woman, who sat in the stands Saturday and watched her two star-wart sons, Mike and Tim Callahan, fight each other for the honor of Yale and Princeton. She has mothered the captains of both teams and the youths were engaged in personal combat far down on the turf, each the keystone of his eleven.

Yale's colors had been forced on her by the authorities of Captain Tim Callahan and Gold had been given her by Captain Mike's followers. She waved them both. Her face was tense with anxiety for her two boys and she heard the final whistle with a frank relief.

"I'm glad they're not hurt," she said, the first real smile of the day.

LEHIGH BLOCKS PENN STATE

BETHLEHEM, Pa. — Lehigh University spoiled Penn State's perfect football record Saturday by holding the States to a 7 to 0 tie. The Lehigh team was the first to score, going over in the third period and only by a desperate effort did the previously triumphant State eleven tie the count in the fourth period.

The aerial game came close to tumbling the Penn State team. It was the forward flapping of Rote, right halfback, that gave Lehigh her touchdown. In straight football there was little success.

Forward passes also paved the way for the Penn State touchdown, but it was in the plays that finally slipped the ball over the final chalk line.

CENTRE BEATS KENTUCKY U

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Before one of the largest crowds ever seen at a football game here, the Colonels of Centre College blanketed the willful eleven of the University of Kentucky on Stoll field Saturday afternoon by a score of 19 to 6.

FOSTORIA DEFEATS SOUTH HI BY 104-0 SCORE; CENTRAL LOSES

BY BILL CUNNINGHAM

While South Hi was being drubbed at Fostoria Saturday by the Fostoria eleven, Central Hi was walloped by Kenton on College Field.

Fostoria easily succeeded in piling up 104 points against South. Kenton defeated Central 27 to 0.

Central's game was featured by many fumbles and lack of cooperation in the local eleven Saturday. Exhibition was the poorest football the Centralites have shown this year except possibly the Bryan game of a week ago. Kenton's game was featured by the playing and running of Eaton and Sharp. Eaton was responsible for 21 of Kenton's points.

The weather was too cold for good football. There was very little punting during the game. The teams either fumbled, intercepting passes, or being held for downs. The game was poorly supported by Central fans. The cheering being scarcely audible at times.

Penalties were frequent. Central being penalized half the distance to the goal line at one time when Robinson was put in the game twice in the same quarter. Several disputes over rules were held, in all it being a very poor exhibition of football.

FIRST QUARTER

Central kicked off. Kenton made gains on line plunges. Kenton fumbled. Central covered the ball. Kenton on a series of off tackle and end run plays worked the ball near the goal line Eaton taking it across on an end run. Eaton missed goal.

Kenton kicked off. Central got the ball within striking distance of the goal line with Rotloff carrying the ball around end for a gain of 25 yards in two plays. This however was followed by a loss of 20 yards and an intercepted pass that gave Kenton the ball. Kenton was vainly trying to penetrate Central's line when the third quarter ended.

FOURTH QUARTER

Eaton tore thru the line for a gain. Patterson following him with a big gain around end. A line plunge failed to make ground and Laughlin stopped an end run for a loss but Kenton rallied. Eaton gaining 10 yards on an end run. Sharp making a touchdown on the next play. Eaton kicked goal.

The game was over as far as the Centralites were concerned but as usual they fought hard until the last minute. Mitchell gained 10 yards on a forward pass. This was the only long successful pass of the game. Three other passes failed and Central lost the ball. Central braced for a last minute rally and held Kenton for downs but on trying a pass Sharp intercepted the play and Kenton again held the ball. The rest of the game neither team could make constant gains, the game ending with Central's line successfully holding Kenton on the 10-yard line.

SOUTH HI

South Hi played purely a defensive game.

South rotated players constantly so that none of them could get hurt, as Coach Jackson feels he has a wonderful chance to win his last two games and does not want any of his men disabled. All of South Hi's men escaped injury.

Fostoria started off with a rush and scored time after time. South refused to receive during the first three quarters and whenever they held Fostoria for downs they punted on first play.

Fostoria was out in force over a thousand spectators were on the field. The Fostoria band entertained the crowd thruout the game with Fostoria school songs.

At the opening of the last quarter South recovered and in rapid succession pulled off eight excellent forward passes gaining a first down on every pass.

South does not feel discouraged over the game as they expected to lose and played their game accordingly. The last quarter opened the eyes of the Fostoria fans while South was using their open work.

STRONG GRID TEAMS TUMBLE IN HARD FOUGHT GAMES

MAROONS AGAIN TASTE DEFEAT AT HAND OF WOLVERINES—HARVARD WINS FINAL GAME OF SEASON—DEFIANCE HERE TODAY

PRINCETON TIGERS CLAW YALE IN ANNUAL GRID CLASSIC

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PRINCETON, N. J. — Yale's bullock chewed, clawed and torn by a ferocious Princeton Tiger, was dragged from the Nassau jungle in the falling darkness Saturday evening more dead than alive.

Mauled, tramped upon, tossed about and beaten by a score of 20 to 0, there was not a whimper out of the canine that sard after the Tiger with bared teeth.

Fifty thousand spectators sat in the sands and saw the Tiger dig its claws in the back of the bulldog four times. Two touchdowns and two field goals not only gave Princeton a glorious victory, but it enabled them to do something that hasn't been done by Nassau men for 20 years—beat Yale two years in succession.

Princeton worshipped Saturday night at the throne of her 1920 gods—Callahan, Keck, Lourie and Murrey. It was this stalwart quartet who led the attack and scored the points that had the students snake dancing all over the village.

Keck kicked two goals from touchdown and a field goal; little Frank Murrey drop-kicked a goal and Callahan and Lourie smashed across the Yale line for touchdowns.

Princeton was slow in getting started in the first period but the play was entirely in Yale territory—so much so that Yale's offense consisted entirely of punting, only one play being attempted in the opening period.

30-YARD DROP KICK
On the first play of the second period, Frank Murrey who won an olive wreath last year, by kicking goals against Yale and Harvard, booted a 30-yard drop kick and drew first blood from the bulldog.

Later in the period, Lourie completely fooled Yale with a clever bit of strategy. On the 50-yard line Keck dropped back as if to try a goal from placement. Lourie, resting on his knees, took the pass from center, dashed around left end and ran 50 yards for a touchdown.

Princeton got away fast again in the third period.
Joe Shearer, on the second play, punted 60 yards to Murrey. The 211 youngster dropped the ball and it rolled toward the goal line. Form after form hurried thru the air in a desperate effort to recover the ball. Captain Mike Callahan crashed thru, picked up the ball on a dead run and ran 12 yards for a touchdown.

Later in the same period, Keck kicked his field goal from the 35-yard line.

GAME HARD FOUGHT
The game was bitterly fought and came close to personal encounters on several occasions. Once Gilroy and Murrey took several swings at each other, but Umpire Thorpe stepped between them.

The score does not indicate the extent to which Yale was outclassed. The tackling of the Blue was ter-

BELIEVE BALL TANGLE IS NEAR END

CHICAGO—The last round of the fight for peace in baseball was expected here next week, when committees of the major and minor leagues attempted to draft a new working agreement.

A new working basis for leagues of organized baseball would restore harmony in all branches, baseball leaders here believed, following the termination of war by club owners of the American and National League. The compromise worked out by which Judge Landis was unanimously appointed controller of affairs of the game for seven years, will prevent possibilities of another major league conflict, it was believed.

MINORS PLEDGE SUPPORT
Judge Landis was assured of the backing of the little leagues Saturday, when a committee of six pledged him their support. They discussed with baseball's new supreme court reforms of the game they deem needed by the minors and announced they were confident their cases and disputes with the majors would be judiciously handled. The committee appointed by the National Association of Baseball League, however received explicit instructions to use caution in treating with the big leagues.

The small leagues contend the separation three years ago caused by status of players in the army draft, was the result of bad faith on the part of the national committee. The division of Judge Landis to be the sole member of baseball's supreme court, also was expected to complicate matters. The National Association had expected to name one of the civilian committee of three originally proposed as the game's governing body.

MIXED MIXTUP
The recent fracture of major league harmony was counted on by the minors as a possible wedge for securing advantages in the proposed new agreement.

Minor league leaders said Saturday night the appeal by the National Association in a strategic position for making a more favorable agreement. The little league leaders contended that by refusing to take sides, they forced to National and American leagues to seek an amicable and stage a late feast. Meetings of the committee from National and American leagues and from the National Association will be held as soon as the majors appoint their representatives and Ben Johnson, of the American League and John Heydler, of the National League, intimated these appointments would be made to the new agreement might be completed and presented to the annual meeting in New York next month.

BADGERS WIN FROM ILLINI BY 14 TO 9

MADISON, Wis.—The scrapping Badgers came from behind in the third quarter Saturday before a home-coming crowd of 27,000 people and scored two touchdowns, enough to register a 14 to 9 victory over the Illinois conference champions.

The Illini scored three times during the encounter, Ralph Fletcher booting three place kicks in four attempts from the 15, 40 and 20-yard lines. The champions, however, were unable to cross the Wisconsin goal line.

Wisconsin was out-played in the first half when Fletcher scored two of his kicks. Richards sent his men back into the game with a baffling attack which carried the visitors off their feet. After crossing the Badgers' goal for two scores, the Badgers confined their efforts to stopping dangerous pass attacks to which the Orange and Blue resorted while fighting with their backs to the wall during the last quarters.

Captain Red Weston, of Wisconsin, playing his last home game at Camp Randall, performed brilliantly for his team. He speared several Wisconsin passers and knocked many of his opponents attempts to earth.

MICHIGAN DUBS CHI WITH 14 TO 0 SCORE IN A FAST GAME

(BY JOE BERNSTEIN)

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Before the largest football crowd of the season here to attend the home-coming game, Michigan's Wolverines defeated the University of Chicago Maroons 14 to 0 in the 17th annual game. The games now stand nine for Michigan and eight for Chicago.

When play first started, it appeared Michigan's line would not stand Chicago's repeated rushes. This was overcome, soon, however, and in the second quarter, Banks of the Wolverines, made a long pass to Usher, who caught the ball behind Chicago's goal line, giving Michigan the first touchdown. Steketee kicked goal.

Score: Michigan 7; Chicago 0.
The third quarter ended scoreless. Palmer kicked off to Banks, who ran the ball to Michigan's 29-yard line. Cohn, substituting for Goebel, intercepted a punt Steketee to Cribler and made a run around end for five yards. Usher ploughed thru center for four yards and Banks added another four. The mighty Steketee made a great run around left end, placing the ball on Michigan's 47-yard line. He later lost an attempted punt.

The fourth quarter started with Michigan's ball on Chicago's 37-yard line. Steketee shot around left end and carried the ball to Chicago's 22-yard line, giving Michigan the first touch down without a punt. Steketee plowed thru tackle and placed the ball two yards from Chicago's goal line.

Michigan put the ball on Chicago's one-foot line in a center rush and two later rushes fell short of a touchdown by inches. Usher pushed the ball over and Steketee kicked goal. Final score: Michigan 14; Chicago 0.

Strong, Forceful Men With Plenty of Iron in Their Blood—

These are the Ones With the Power and Energy to Win

"Many a capable man or woman falls just short of winning because they don't back up their mental with the physical strength and energy which come from having plenty of iron in the blood," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Out-door Dept.), New York and The Westchester County Hospital.
"Lack of iron in the blood not only makes a man a physical and mental weakling, nervous, irritable, easily fatigued, but it entirely robs him of that virile force, that stamina and strength of will which are so necessary to success and power in every walk of life. It may also transform a beautiful, sweet-tempered woman into one who is cross, nervous and irritable. To help make strong, keen, red-blooded Americans there is nothing in my experience which I have found so valuable as organic iron—Sullivan Iron—often increases the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, run-down people in one week's time. Unlike the older iron tonic products it is easily assimilated, does not stain the teeth, make them black nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser; they will refund your money, if it is dispensed in this city by all good druggists."

MAKE APPEAL TO LEGISLATURE

Deficiency in City Funds Will Make Special Action Necessary.

In accord with the limit of resolutions adopted Friday evening at the council chamber in a meeting of city officials and citizens, Mayor Burkhardt will name a committee of citizens to urge the county commissioners to make a valuation of property in Lima for taxation purposes and to name three appraisers of property.

Another committee is to be named by the Mayor to urge the county commissioners to provide a fund for the repair and construction of streets in the city. Council is to be asked to give the mayor, solicitor and auditor authority to petition the state legislature to provide for the issuance of deficiency bonds in 1921, without a vote of the people, and that city civic organizations be requested to assist to that end.

A crisis in the financial affairs of the city prompted this action. The budget for 1921 will be $150,000 and unless some plan can be found to relieve the situation, city officials say, there is not sufficient money to pay the cost of holding a special session on the proposition of issuing deficiency bonds. Auditor Rupert stated.
